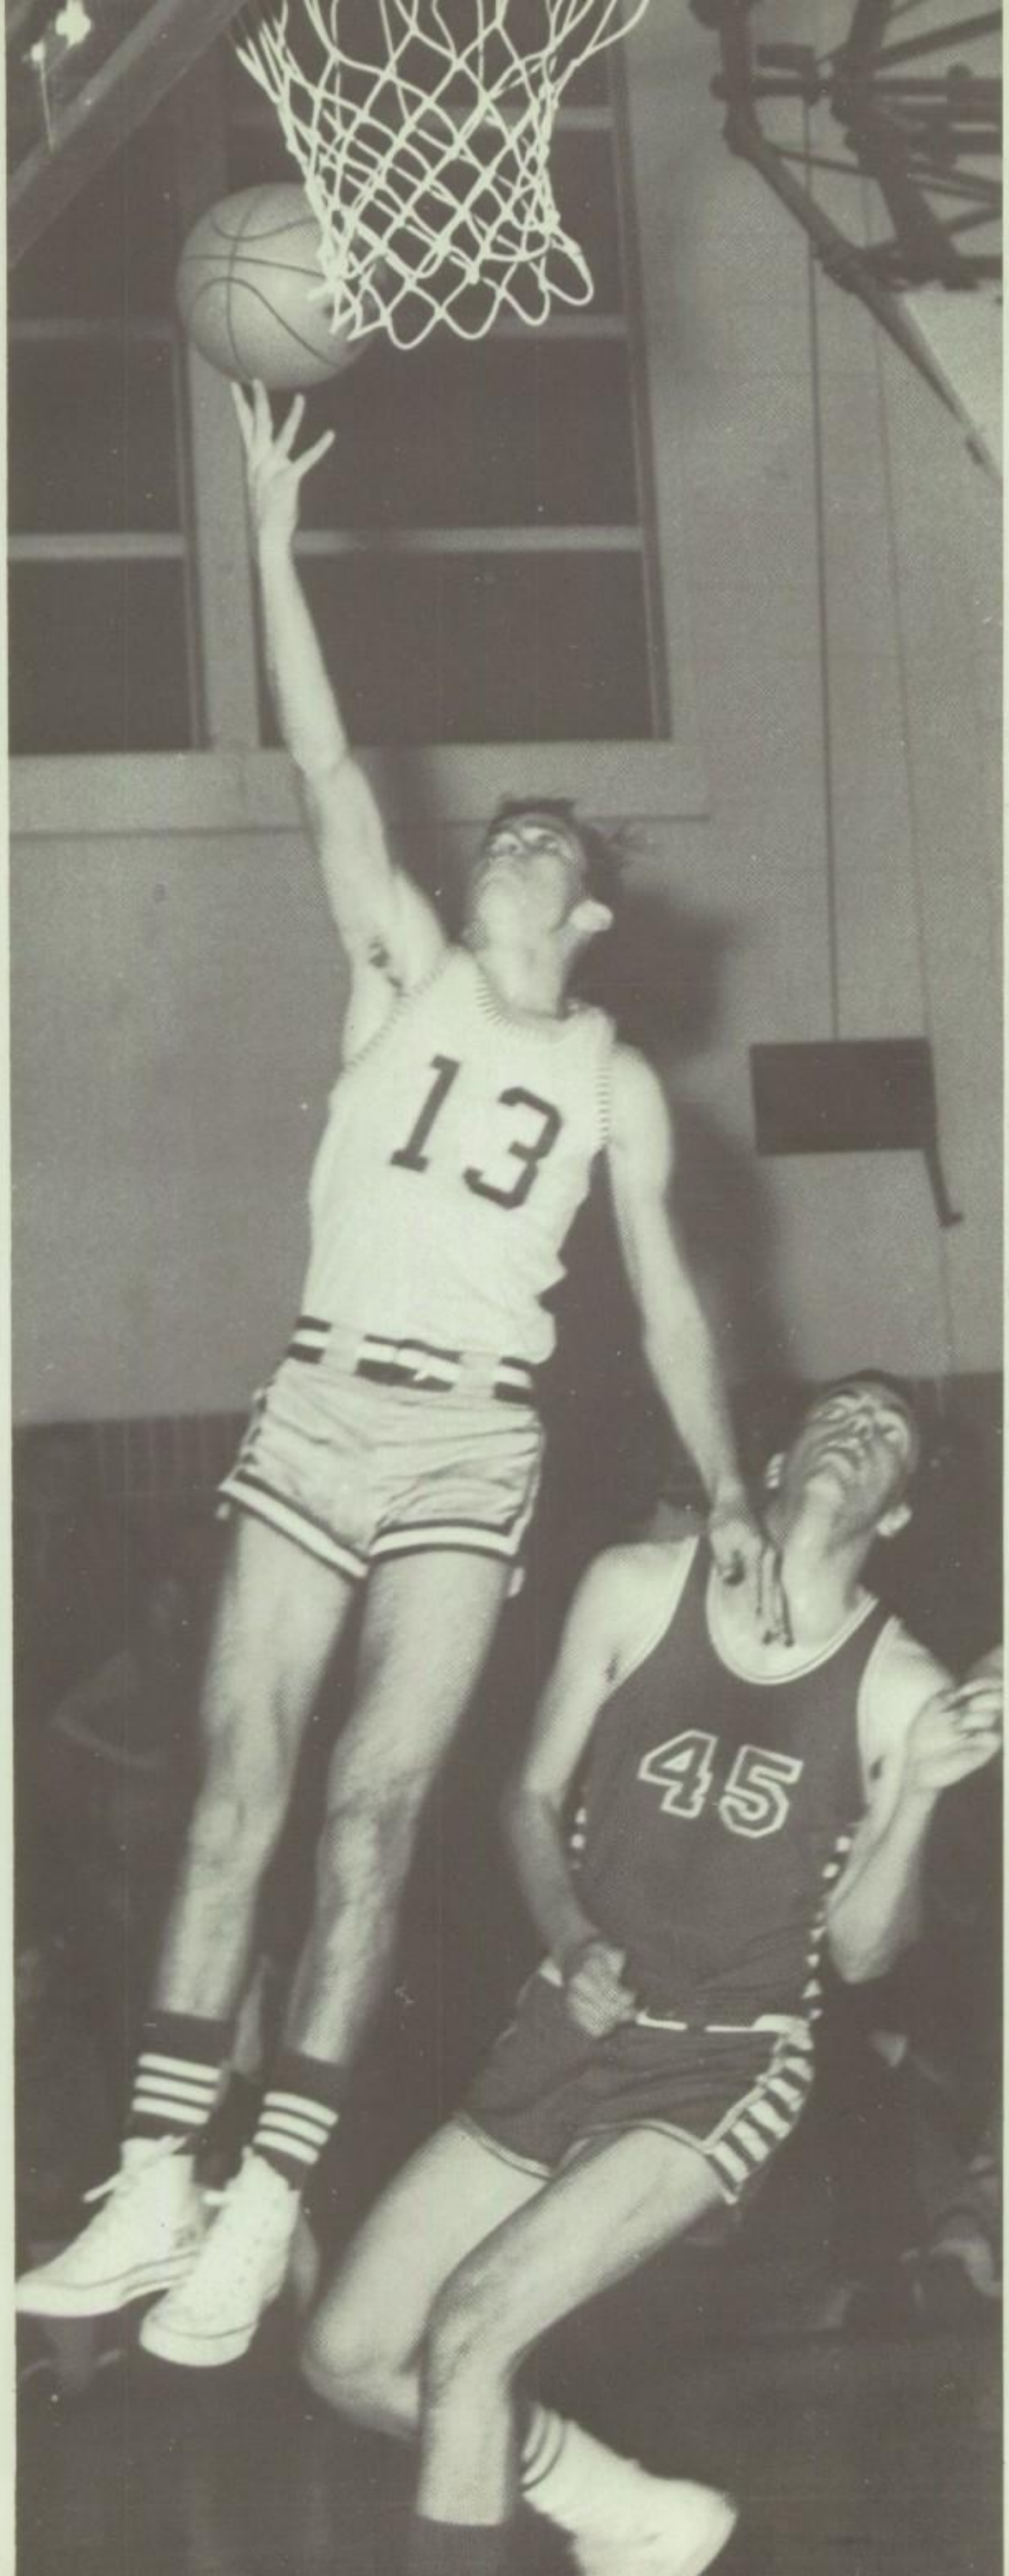
Jay Worley gives Mr. Vaughan a taste of his own "medicine"—a few licks with a paddle, as Carol Bellew counts during a celebration of Mr. Vaughan's birthday.

We dedicate ...

Mr. Kenneth O. Vaughan, vice-principal at Eastern Hills since it opened nine years ago, is planning to retire and enjoy life. He has been associated with the Fort Worth Public Schools for more than 30 years. For 16 years he was band director at North Side High. Before coming to Eastern Hills, he was assistant principal at Elder Junior High for six years.

Mr. Vaughan has always been close to the student body in his work. Besides acting as vice-principal, he also served for several years as tennis coach. He wrote the fight songs for both Eastern Hills and North Side, as well as the official ROTC song.

To Mr. Vaughan, for his many years of dedicated service, we respectfully dedicate the '68 Clan.



Eastern Hills in motion

We perform . . .
We follow . . .
We participate . . .
We compete . . .
We honor . . .
We think . . .

We perform ...

opening night ... ring-turning .... curtain calls ... decorations ... football mums ... dress rehearsal ... "Howard" ... footlights and greasepaint ... "We, the faculty and student body" ... tuxedoes and formals.

The 1967 Homecoming Queen was Corleen Miles, who has just received the crown from her escort, Raymond Peak. The other nominees were Marge Johnson, escorted by Joey Herr; Sue Johnson, with Stephen Howell; Carol Roddy, with Todd Webster; and Cathi Rogers, with Gary Goodyear.

Lassies Aid Homecoming Spirit

"Hills is Tops!" shout the Highlander Lassies at the Homecoming pep rally. The traditional bout with Paschal brought enthusiasm to the student body and a taste of Highlander spirit to the exes. This spirit aided Eastern Hills in its 13-0 victory over the Panthers.

Both the Band Sweetheart and the Homecoming Queen were presented at half-time during the game, while the band performed a special number. The Band Sweetheart was elected by the band members; the Homecoming Queen was chosen by the football team.

Susan Willis, this year's Band Sweetheart, was crowned by the band president, Bill Milner, as drum major, Steven Jennings, holds the traditional bouquet of roses.

During Homecoming Week, the Exes found a bungalow transformed into a courtroom, the lunchroom became a three ring circus, and even the "flower people" found a home in the art room.

Each homeroom, aided by a Highlander Lassie representative, adopted a decorating idea. The rooms were judged by members of the faculty having no homerooms. Judging was done on neatness and originality.

Priscilla Hamilton and Sharon McCurry show off their very own "Steve Luebbehusen" doll while the panther, Sandy Jackson, tries to escape from the blue bars of Eastern Hills. Mrs. Harwell's room won the title "Best Use of the Theme."

Blinking lights and op art windows turn Miss Swain's English classes into a psychedelic light show. This homeroom rated the "Most Colorful" title.

Mary Jo Neel, along with two Highlander Lassies, puts the finishing touches on "Guinnville." This room was judged as the "Most Originally Decorated." Does Paschal's quarterback really sleep with a night light?

Zany Family Breaks Up Audience

Debbie Thompson sheds tears of joy after receiving the Best Actress award. Jack Graham was named Best Actor for his performance as Grandpa. Best Supporting Actress and Actor were Deborah Nelon and John West.

A mad scientist tests sky rockets from the basement window, a ballerina tour jetes across the room, and a drunk sprawls across the family printing press in the zany play "You Can't Take It With You," directed by Mrs. Ann Heberle.

"Hercules, you're not but . . .," mutters Penny Sycamore, played by Debbie Thompson, as she studies her model, Mr. De Pinna, played by Randy Rhodes. Could the canvas he's carrying be Debbie's unfinshed portrait?

Alice Sycamore, played by Deborah Nelon, and Tony Kirley, played by David Heffner, help Mr. Kirley, Chuck Gilbert, to his feet after bearded Kolenkov, played by John West, lets his wrestling get out of hand. Grandpa, Jack Graham; Paul Sycamore, Jeter Fulbright; Mrs. Kirley, Debby Endsley; and Penny Sycamore, Debbie Thompson, look on in horror.

These blushing beauties execute an exotic dance to brighten up the Doll Show's Channel #5 commercial. The dancers are Jimmy Day, Scott Lankton, Cary Dorman, Mark Chrisman, Terry Dodson, and Tommy Van Horn.

Guys Gone Dolls Spice Christmas Show

Rickey Hall smiles radiantly after being named "Miss America." Would you believe of 1936?

The "Kissy Doll," John Hobbs, greets Bullwinkle, Barry Johnson, with a handshake? What kind of deal is this?

Santa, Jeter Fulbright, oversees the construction of a canned good Christmas tree. Santa's elves, Lynn Strode, Carolyn Cox, and Debbie Oliver, stack the food collected as admission to the Doll Show. The canned goods were distributed to needy families before Christmas. Theme of this year's Doll Show was "The Dating Game."

Doll Show Turns Dating Game

The cast of the Christmas Doll Show gathered on stage for a grand finale. Twiggy was portrayed by Frank Barnes; Donald Duck, by Joey Herr; Daisy Mae, by Steve Luebbehusen; Tinkerbell, by Phil Norwood; Robin Hood, by Gary Reynolds; Robin and Batman, by Steve Hullum and Dick Burt.

"Only my hairdresser knows for sure!" cries "Lassie" Rusty Arthur in response to Terry Dodson's questioning.

Randy Ross receives last minute make-up from Paula Bledsoe before the Doll Show.

Deborah Nelon was chosen Miss Big "E" in the annual beauty—talent contest. For her talent, Deborah presented an original pianologue based on the theme of patriotism.

Deborah Nelon Wins Big "E" Title

Finalists Display Varied Talents

Carolyn Riley, third runner-up, turned the tables on Satchmo Armstrong with her version of "Hello, Fellas."

Kay Brimer, second runner-up, displays her versatile talent in the world of dance through a lively Charleston.

Helen Keller explodes with emotion as she realizes that finger language can be her key to the world. Annie Sullivan, played by Kay Heberle, and Helen Keller, played by Kitty Doll, struggle at the water pump.

"Miracle Worker" Given as Senior Play

Helen Keller a blind, deaf mute, rediscovers the magic of language in the "Miracle Worker," directed by Mrs. Ann Heberle. Annie Kneels beside Helen as she reaches to spell "Father" to Captain Keller, played by John West. Kate Keller, played by Debbie Thompson, watches in wonder and Aunt Ev, played by Beverly Carroll, rushes to Helen's side. Kitty Doll and Randy Rhodes, as Percy, were awarded the best actress and actor awards. There was a tie for the title of best supporting actress, between Debbie Thompson and Kay Heberle; best supporting actor was John West.

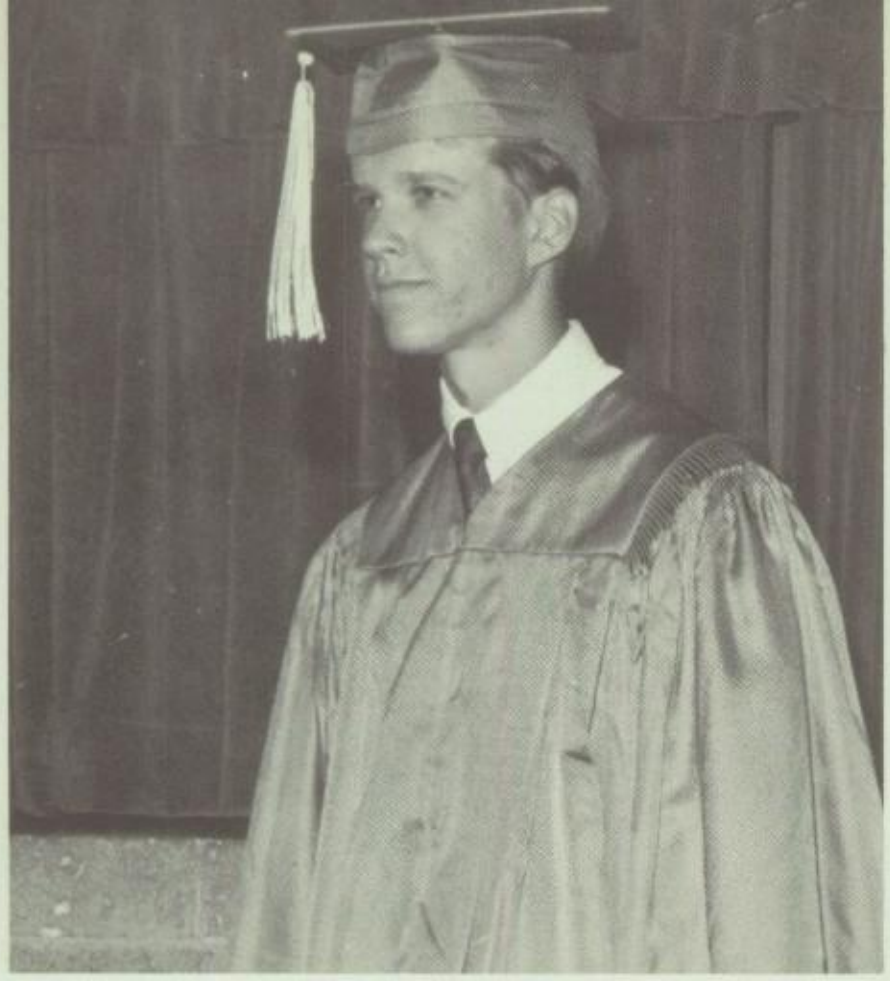
During the Senior Day program, the class of '68 visited the "Rowan and Martin Laugh-In." Dick Martin, portrayed by Mike Privitt, and Dan Rowan, portrayed by Todd Webster, gave the program a local twist.

Tiny Tim, Tarzan Tour Laugh-In

"Give my regards to Batman." Mike Privitt as Tarzan proves to Debbie Oliver that he's a real swinger. Debbie contemplates the chances of being caught on the runway in case he makes a crash landing.

During the awards presentations, Mrs. Dorothy Boles surprised Katie Fegan with a scholarship granted by the University of Texas at Arlington in the field of journalism. Katie has shown talent, hard work, and determination in her chosen field of writing.

"And if I kiss you in the garden, in the moonlight, will you pardon me?" squeals Gordon Cardwell, who portrayed Tiny Tim.



Mark Dilworth participates in the processional during the Commencement exercises. Graduation was held May 30, 1968, in Will Rogers Memorial Auditorium.

"No, Bill, you can't change your tassel until after graduation." Sharon Moran checks Bill Milner's cap before Baccalaureate services.

Class Graduates at Will Rogers

Graduation night finds excited seniors awaiting the processional. Marsha Carter and Gayle Gorsich express their enthusiasm to Bill Milner and Sharon Moran.

Dissecting Frogs Creates Interest

Barbara Mathis and Candy McAllister try to unlock the complex mysteries of the cell in Mr. Ross' biology class.

For those with hearty stomachs, dissecting frogs, worms, and fish is one of the most interesting phases of biology. A study of human anatomy, as well as the life cycle of various organisms, is made.

In chemistry students conduct experiments to determine the properties and reactions of chemicals. Lectures are given on various aspects, such as acids, salts, bases, and hydrocarbons.

Physics students conduct approximately forty experiments to observe the laws of motion and matter. One of the highlights of the course is the study of wave motion, using ripple tanks.

Current Events Enliven Classes

By taking advantage of current events, social studies instructors enliven their classes. Field trips, such as seeing "Gone With the Wind," as well as films, transparencies, records, maps, and newspapers, supplement material found in texts.

Government I classes study functions of the United States government and the Constitution. Mock sessions of Congress and mock trials are staged. In Congress "bills" are enacted favoring the majority party, either the boys or girls, depending on the nature of the bill.

English, Language Activities Open Door to Communications

Two years of German, three years of French and Latin, and four years of Spanish are now offered at Eastern Hills. Besides textbooks, language records and ALM tapes by native speakers are used to aid the students in learning. The students may also join clubs and participate in their activities.

The English program in divided into six semesters. Sophomores study a mixture of English and American authors, juniors study American authors, and seniors study English authors. In all three grades grammar and composition are integrated with literature. In addition to regular activities, students are required to do one term theme in their junior year and one their senior year on topics related to material studied in class. Teachers use such teaching aids as records, slides, film strips, and overhead projectors.

Student Council Guides Elections

The Student Council is a body of ten seniors, six juniors, and five sophomores elected by the student body. Its purpose is to promote citizenship, scholarship, leadership, human relations, and cultural values. Each member is involved with school activities and works closely with the faculty as he serves the school. The '67-'68 Student Council did an exceptional job in its many services such as setting up the qualifications for class favorites and Mr. and Miss EHHS and organizing their elections, counting votes for cheerleader elections, promoting a campaign to clean up the cafeteria, sponsoring a computer dance, and ending the year with a picnic at Forest Park.

Guy Stroman and Mary Margaret Ball add finishing touches to the school Christmas tree. The Council adds to the holiday spirit when members brighten up the school each year with Christmas decoration.

Lassie members, Linda Doggett and Debbie Oliver, sell candy and soft drinks in the front foyer during the Big "E" pageant. Lassies provided this service for many night programs sponsored by the school.

Melvin Dacus, Public Relations Director of Casa Manana, spoke of the coming Casa attractions and past experiences at a student assembly.

Christine Melanson Wins Lassie Grant

Lassie officers, Sandy Jackson and Paula Bloedsoe, sell a Fool-O-Gram to Donna Bullard. Money made from these April first telegrams, delivered before the passing periods, was added to the funds for the Lassie scholarship, which was awarded to Christine Melanson.

Rose Marie Ramey examines the packet handed out to Lassie volunteers who collected for the annual cancer march.

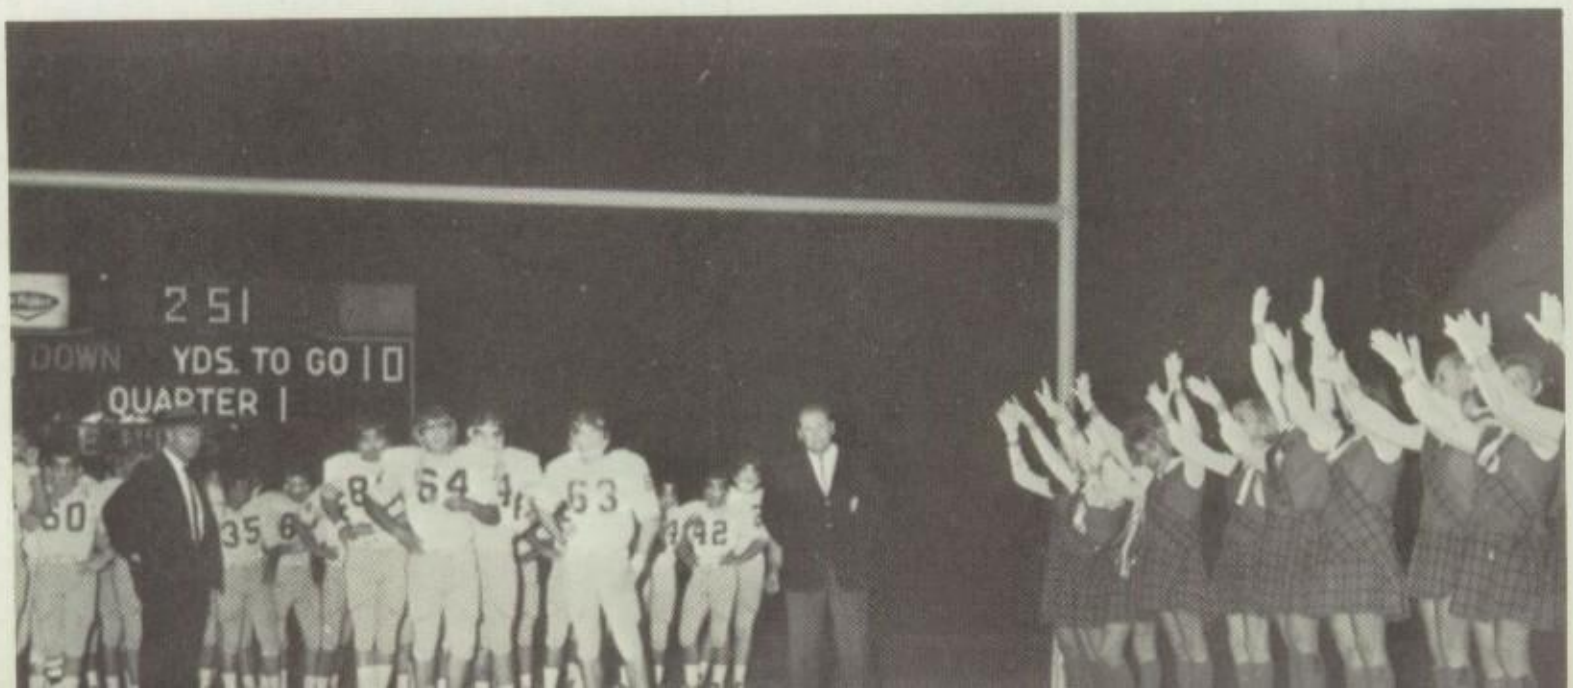
Lassies Promote School Spirit

Proud officers Paula Weeks, recording secretary; Debbie Oliver, historian; Marsha Waddell, first vice-president; Kathryn Daniell fifth vice-president; Margie Tripp, treasurer; Sandy Jackson, fourth vice-president; Mary Jo Neel, second vice-president; Debbie Leach, chaplain; Marge Johnson, corresponding secretary; Paula Bledsoe, fifth vice-president, standing; Robin Hough, third vice-president; Jan Price, president; and Zana Underwood, first vice-president, admire a plaque received from the Fort Worth Teen Center in appreciation of a record player and other services donated by the Lassies.

Les McBee and Dede Stevens risk life and limb to decorate the auditorium for homecoming. Besides making posters for the halls and auditorium, each Lassie takes the initiative to see that her homeroom is the best decorated for homecoming and Christmas.

Howdy Week, planned by Robin Hough and Mrs. Jan Cox, social sponsor, was the first undertaking of the Lassies. Featuring local speakers, monthly programs were presented under the direction of Zana Underwood and Marsha Waddell, assisted by Mrs. Jean Dyer, program sponsor. Mrs. Marquerite Thompson and Miss Miriam Moore, former Y-Teen sponsors, are head sponsors of the Lassies.

One of the major goals that the Lassies undertook when the club replaced Y-Teens this year was to boost school spirit and promote good sportsmanship. Whenever Eastern Hills enters competition, one can bet that the 100 Lassies making up the pep squad are some of the most loyal backers of Highlander teams. At the beginning of each football game, the girls form an honor guard to cheer each team member to victory as he runs onto the field. Junior Sandy Jackson is vice-president in charge of sports.



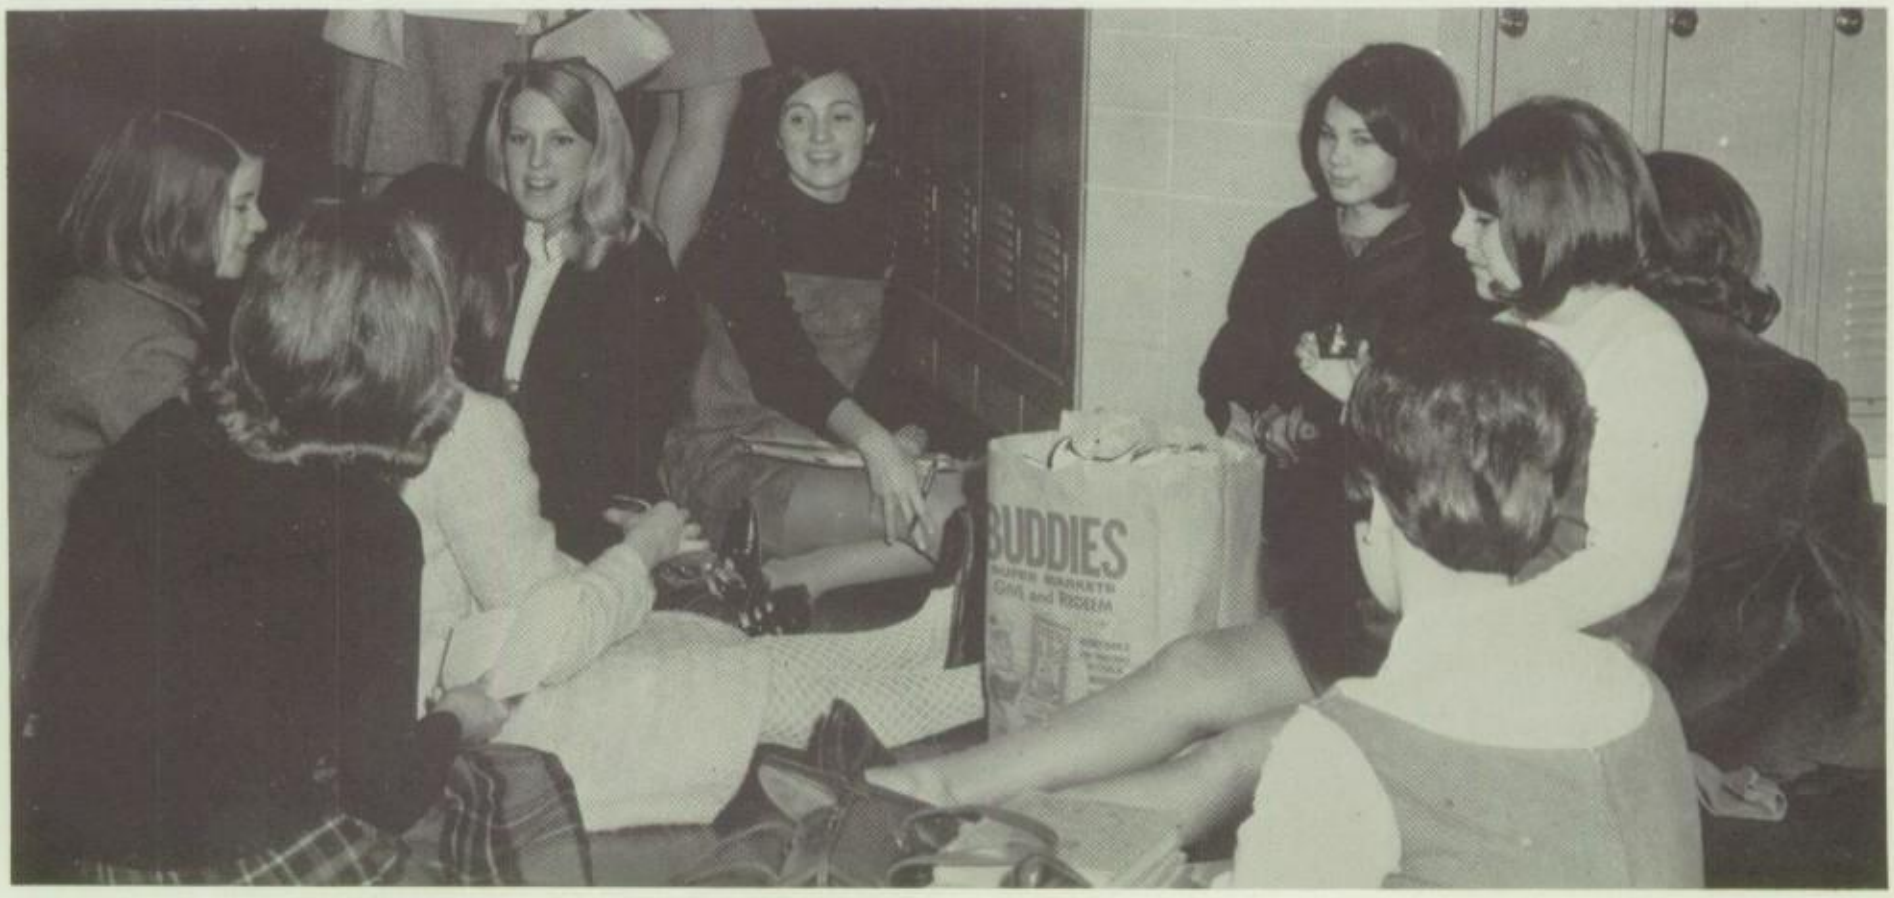
Carrie Cowan puts up locker decorations that the Lassies take the responsibility of making on days of athletic contests. Vice-presidents in charge of publicity and decorations are Kathryn Daniell and Paula Bledsoe, with Miss Susan Swain as sponsor.

Lassies mix fun and frolic with service when they sponsor the doll show at Christmas. Santa Jeter Fulbright watches as elves Lynn Strode, Carolyn Cox, and Debbie Oliver stack some of the canned goods that were collected as the price of admission to the show. Proceeds go to needy families. Other service projects included selling Homecoming mums to earn money for a record player, selling programs at the Indoor Track Meet, and babysitting for mothers who attended study courses sponsored by Meadowbrook Elementary PTA.

Lassies Combine Work and Play

Before school the halls echo in song as Lassies practice singing carols in preparation for a program at Brookhaven Convalescent Home during Christmas.

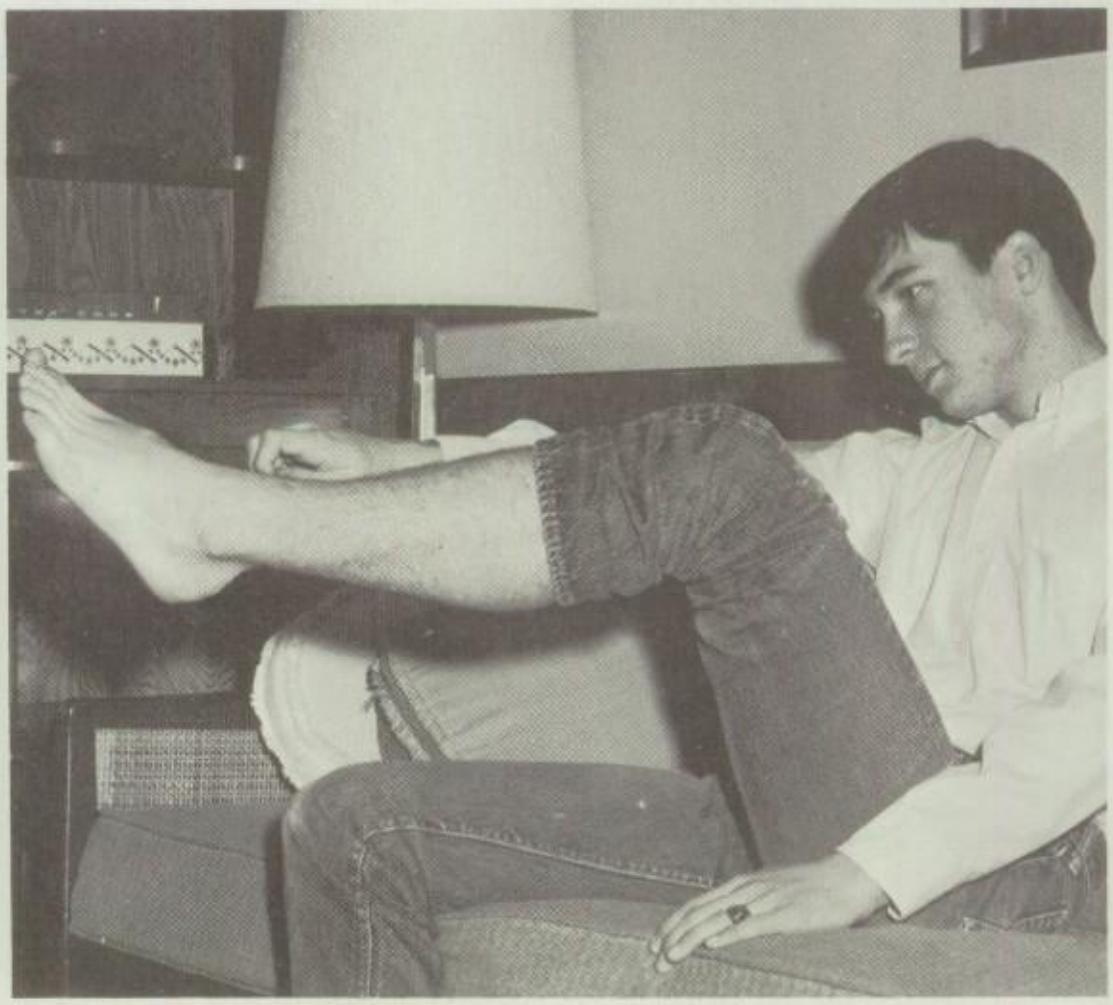
Mary Jo Neel is vice-president in charge of service; Miss Ann King, sponsor.



Included in the officers for Troylites were, seated, Jeanne Hatcher, secretary; Debbie Thompson, president; Becky Michael, vice-president; standing, Deborah Nelon, parliamentarian and Debby Leach, treasurer. Troylites participated in play productions, as well as city-wide speech contests.

"Cover Girl hides all my blemishes," says senior Kitty Doll. Troylite members help out in make-up, props, and stage crew.

New member Don Dutton imitates a girl shaving her leg at the initiation held in September. Over seventy members met at the ice cream social to begin the new school year.



After enjoying a successful progressive dinner sponsored by the Troylites, club members Dee Mitchell, Laurie Vitek, Gary Yinger, and Idella Greenwood relax at the home of Johnny West.

A progressive dinner highlighted the Christmas season for Troylite members. The meal was divided into appetizers at Debbie Thompson's, salads at Sydney Michael's, the main course at Laurie Vitek's, and dessert and games at Johnny West's. Dabbling in a variety of other activities, Troylites attended stage performances in Dallas, staged skits at bi-monthly meetings, entered and placed in various speech contests and tournaments, and enjoyed guests speakers at various socials throughout the year.

Rhodes Receives Best Actor Award

On stage and backstage Troylite members express an interest in the theater arts as they made up the cast and technical crew for both the fall play, "You Can't Take It With You," and the spring play, "The Miracle Worker" (below). Honors for the "Miracle Worker" were given to best actor Randy Rhodes as Percy, with runner-up Johnny West as Captain Keller. Best actress was Kitty Doll as Helen, with runners-up Kay Heberle as Anne Sullivan and Debbie Thompson as Kate Keller. Guy Stroman gave an outstanding performance as James, the Kellers' son.

Budgeting and good meal planning are stressed to FHA members. Right, Shari Rusk and Orene Davidson plan and cook a dinner for four, using a limited budget of one dollar.

Speakers were often invited to the Scotties' monthly meetings. Some of the more popular lecture topics presented were on fire prevention in the home, efficiency in the kitchen, grooming and personal care, investments and mutual funds, and personal feelings. Mr. David Wilkerson spoke to the group about the Teen Challenge Center.

FHA Forms Scottie Chapter

Secretary Becky Cauthern, vice-president Karen Maxwell, president Belinda Allgood, president Becky Michael, secretary Cindy Thornburg, vice-president Carol Evitt, and vice-president Robin Hough were class officers making up the executive council of the new Scottie Chapter of FHA formed at Hills this year. Services were a definite goal of the club. They sponsored a "back to school tea" for the faculty, gave a Halloween dance for the student body to send profits to UNICEF, provided Thanksgiving dinner for a needy family, collected toys for a local Christmas drive, and made worthy donations to an orphanage. Mrs. Guinn was sponsor.

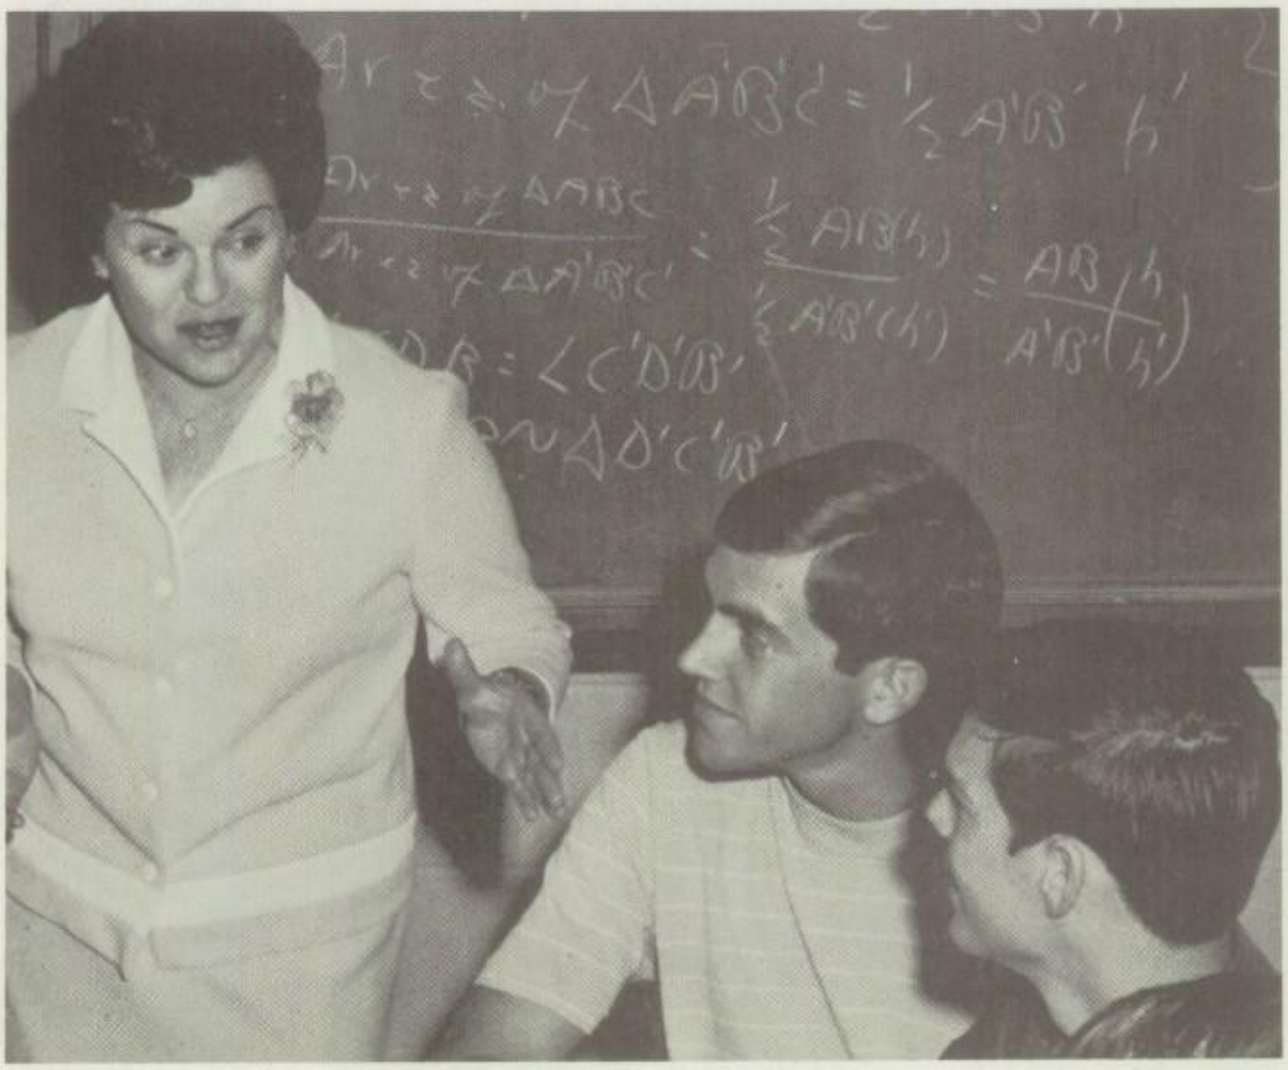
New to Eastern Hills this year is the organization of future Homemakers of America. Sponsored by Mrs. Thompson the members have participated in such projects as bake sales, collecting money for UNICEF and UNESCO, sending Christmas cards to an old folks' home in Denton, Texas, and sending Easter eggs to a home for retarded children. The goals of FHA include improving one's self, one's family, and one's community living.

Miss Susan Swain, sponsor for this year's FTA, gives pointers to several FTA officers as they make plans for programs and club activities. Paula Bledsoe served as Future Teacher president.

FTA Members Travel to Dallas



A trip to Dallas for the statewide FTA convention was the highlight of this year's FTA activities. Students traveled by car to Dallas for an overnight stay at the Hilton Hotel. While there students learned of the goals of FTA. Improvement, improvisation, and encouragement, were the themes of this year's convention. Other activities this year included a tea at Tarrant County Junior College and a Christmas party.

Mrs. Virginia Ward, left, tells FTA members of the various rewards received when a person decides to enter the teaching profession.

FNA Packs Boxes for Viet Nam

Cindy Thornburg, Susan Burnham, Priscilla Hamilton, and Beatrice Lange helped pack supplies for nurses in the armed forces who were stationed in Viet Nam. Other projects included a tour of Dallas area hospitals and a trip to Brownwood to attend the state convention.

Picnic Mark

"Isn't that beverage just a little too strong for you?" inquires Debby Endsley, as Mike McCoy makes preparations for a toast to the chef of Der Schornsteinfeger.

A dinner at Der Schornsteinfeger Restau rant, followed by a dance at the home of clu sponsor Mrs. Valda Carroll, kicked off thi year's Deutscher Verein activities. Club mem bers and their guests sang German songs, mad toasts, and feasted on delicious German cook ing.

The club's Christmas party was also held a Mrs. Carroll's home. Cucumber punch, mad according to an old German recipe, was served Entertainment was provided by two forme residents of Germany, Christine Albone, wh showed slides of that country, and Mario Chelf, who described an average Christmas i Germany.

As part of a class assignment, second-yea German students presented a play for the first year students. After the presentation, whic was spoken entirely in German, the first-yea students named Sharon Brooks as Best Actres and Don Levy as Best Actor.

Arlington's Randol Mill Park was the des tination of Deutscher Verein members on thei annual bicycle hike. A picnic lunch, a lively volleyball game, and a weary ride back fo those members possessing determination ende this group's activities.

Planning club activities this year were officers David Hart, secretary-treasurer; Don Levy, president; Jerrell Hoover, wide-president; and Candy Schober, parliamentarian-reporter.

"The vision in my crystal ball is becoming dimmer and dimmer, but for just a few more pennies I might be able to bring it back into focus," states Lynette Smith, who as a gypsy fortune teller narrated the play presented by the second-year students.

End of German Club Activities

Joe Cross instructs Ruth Hopkins in the fine art of dancing the polka during the dance at Mrs. Carroll's house.

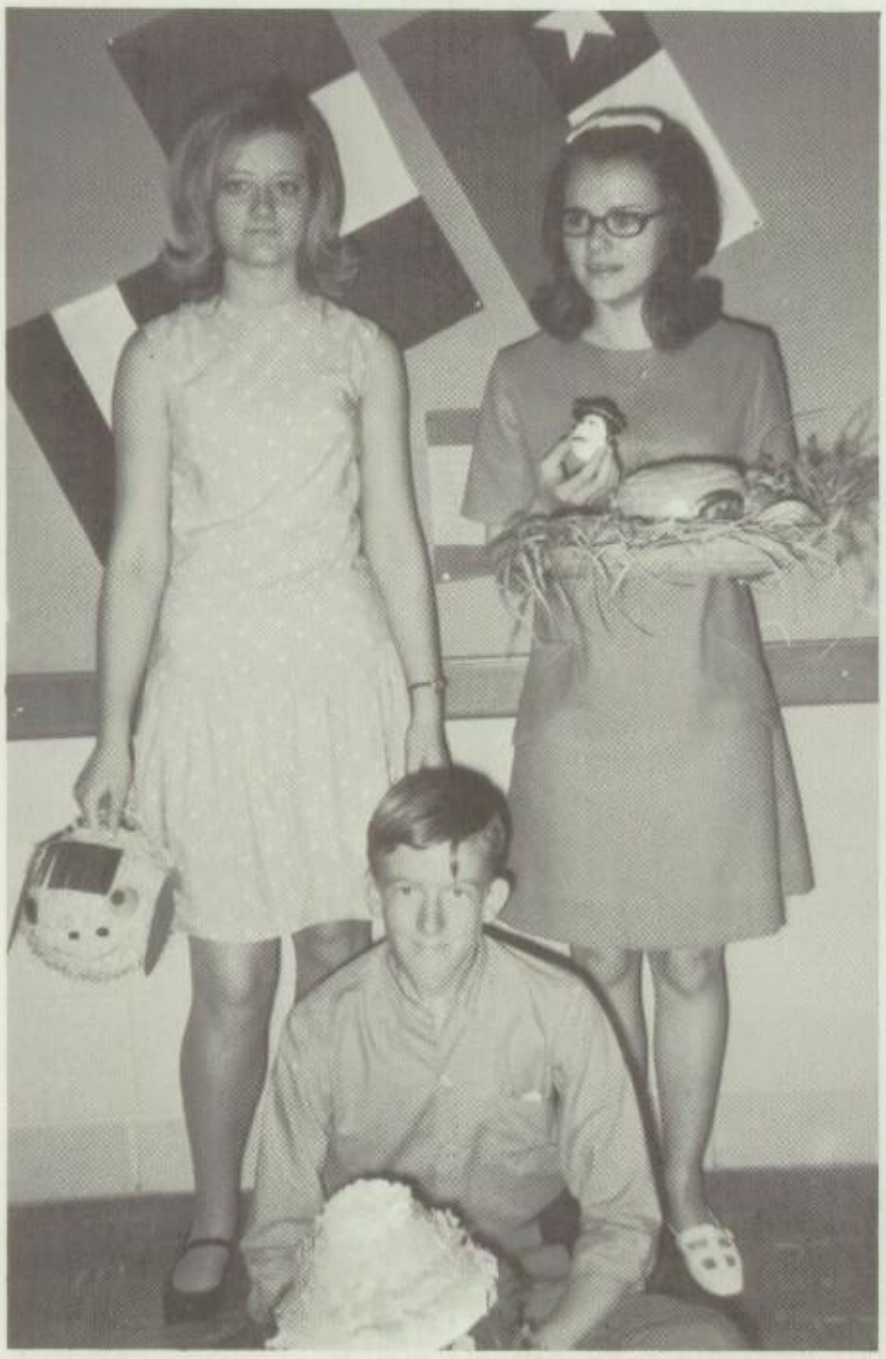
Clay Noble wields his hatchet to provide kindling for the fire, which proved to be a warm welcome for weary bicyclers Candy Schober, Sue Williams, Max Wayman, and Don Levy on a nippy April afternoon.

Todd Webster has his team members' rapt attention as he attempts to get the idea across during this game of charades played at the Christmas party.

Pan Am Raises Foreign Interest

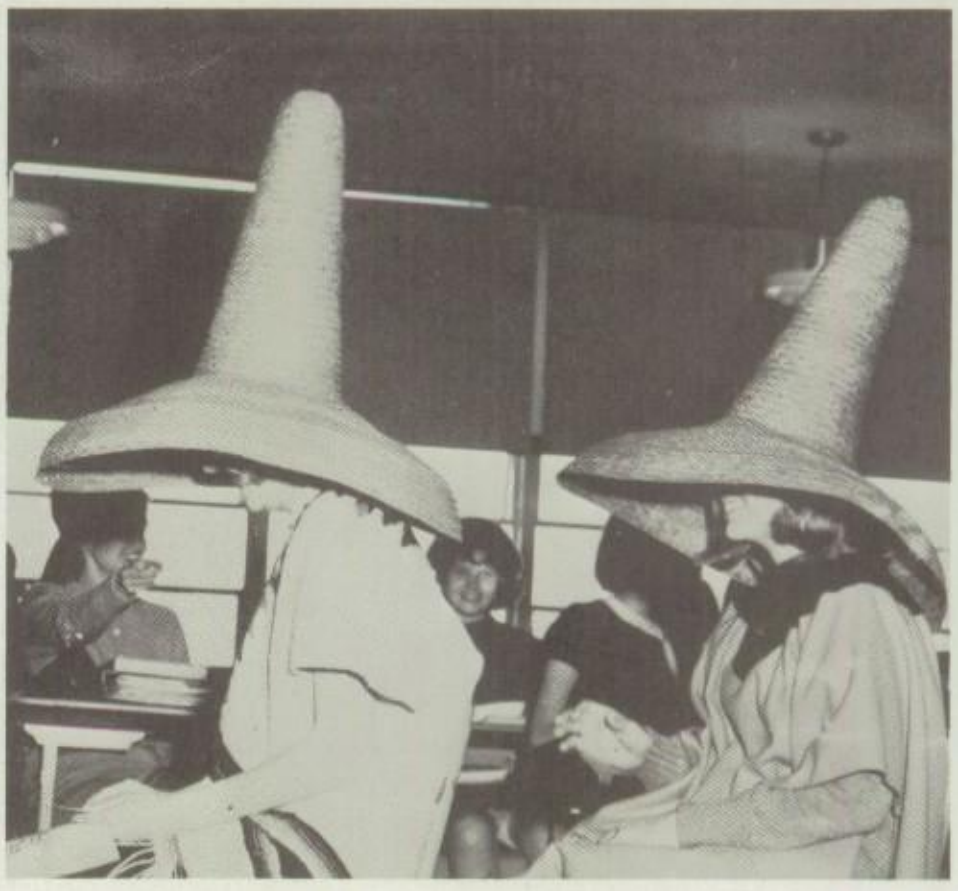
Unit II Pan Am officers, Darla Ballem, vice-president; Suzie Sterett, secretary; and Sylvia Swords, president, were responsible for planning a variety of activities throughout the year to encourage respect and better understanding of Spanish customs, culture, language, and people.

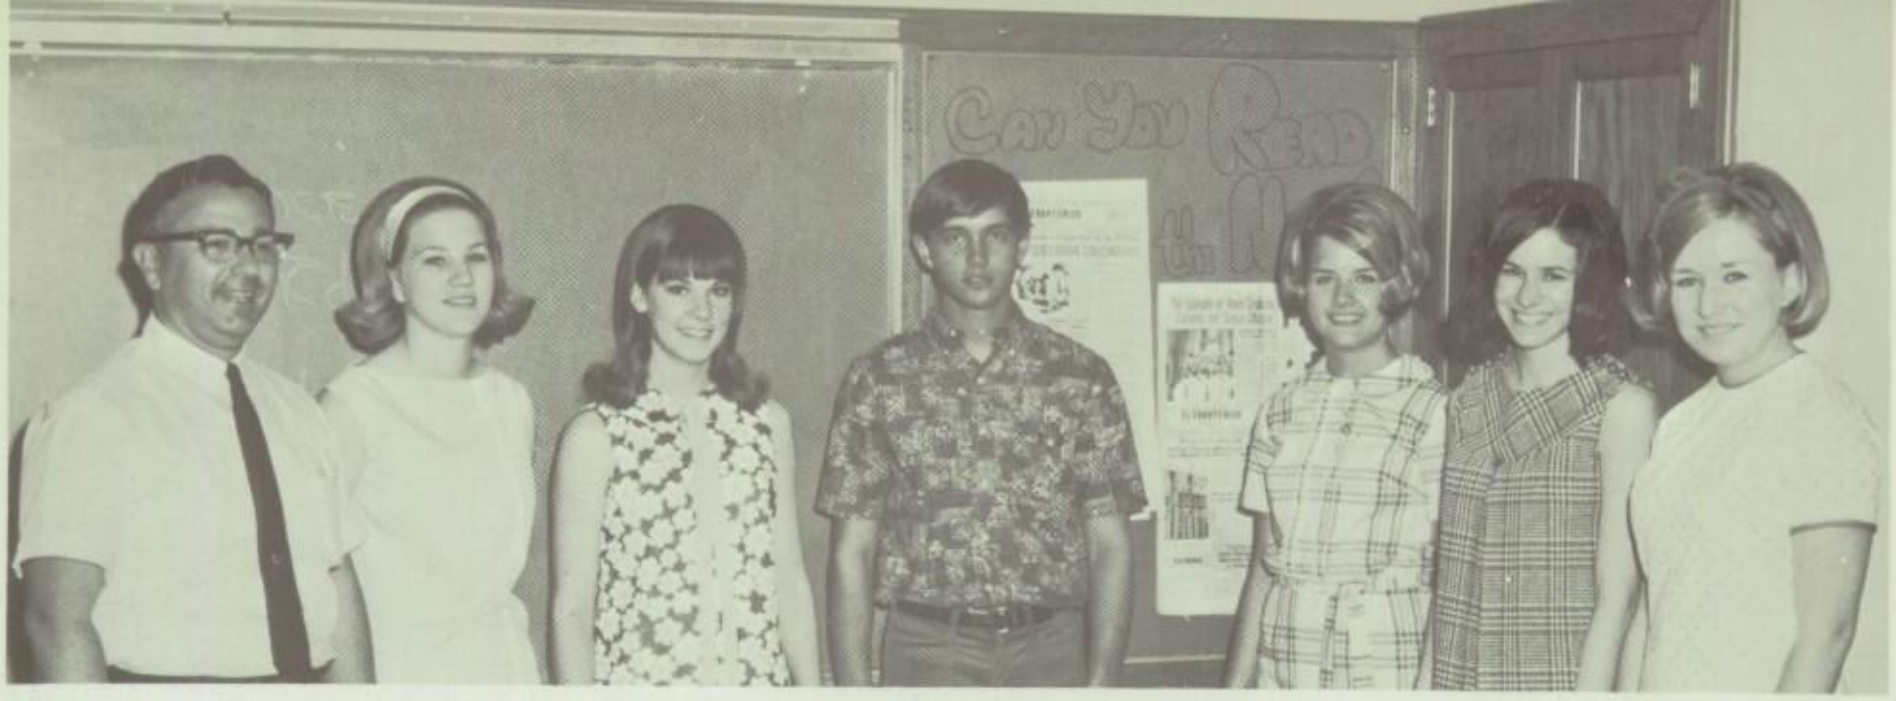
Sponsor, Miss Susan Swain; treasurer, Rick McAfee; president, Mike McKee, and secretary, Debra White, served as officers of Unit III Pan Am.



Betty Ford, Sharon McCurry and Jay Clement exhibit pinatas and eggs they decorated for an Easter project. Other activities shared by members included a Mexican dinner, a Christmas party, slides on Spain, and collecting toys at Christmas to give to Latin American children.

Karen McCurry and Marjorie Luke entertain with a Spanish skit. The monthly meetings of Unit III were highlighted by parties, meetings, slides on South America, and slides on Mexico shown at an inter-city meeting.





Providing direction for Spanish Unit III were Mr. John Psomas, sponsor; Vernita Cain, secretary; Pam Cunningham, program committee; Danny Owen, president; Cathi Rogers, program committee; Marge Johnson, treasurer; and Carol Bellew, vice-president.

Carol Ward Wins Scholarship

Junior Carol Ward smilingly pinpoints Monterrey on a map of Mexico. Carol received a Spanish grant to continue her study of that language at Monterry Tech this summer. She will study third year Spanish for six weeks. This will include literature, dancing, conversation, and grammar. The scholarship, given by the Pan American Student Forum, was judged on the basis of letters on "Why I Want To Study," written by the contestants in Spanish.

Mr. Psomas' Spanish unit shared their Christmas spirit with the Jose' Delgado family by collecting money used for the purchase of food and toys.

Spanish classes practice structure drills in dialogue while in the language lab. Dialogue tapes are used to teach pronunciation and inflection of foreign languages.

Vice-president, Suzanne Stadler; secretary, Kay Brimer; publicity chairman, Becky Michael; president, Bobby Bergeron, and program chairman, Cindy Morrow, test the scaffold used at the Toujours initiation held in October. New members were charged with murdering the French language and justly punished at a mock trial.

Members Initiated at Trial

Toujours divided into two groups to visit the Old Swiss House for an authentic French dinner served in courses. Serving their plates are Mary Brown, Jan Able, and Craig Fleming.

"Sure, I'll fix you some escargots with sauce bearnaise, but someone else is gonna have to catch the snails!" says Chef John Cofer. Club members cooked their own specialty for the "tasting supper" held in February.

Beth McCord and Heather Oren look on as Candy Mills wonders whether French cooking is all that it is built up to be. Toujours acquaints members with both customs and traditions to add to their interests in the French language, people, and country.

Toujours Tastes French Cuisine

Christmas is a time for caroling, but Toujours added a foreign touch to songs as members entertained the Meadowbrook neighborhood. Carols learned in class were sung in French, accompanied with an autoharp played by Pauls Week to add to the yuletide spirit. Members warmed up with refreshments and fun at Janelle Jordan's house.

Zana Underwood, president of JCL, and Robin Hough, secretary, preside at the annual slave auction. Other officers are Paula Bledsoe, vice-president, and Debbie Thompson, historian.

Junior Classical League Turns

At an auction, sophomores and first year Latin students are sold into slavery to JCL members. The week of bondage finds slaves wearing chains and demerit books, signing potato chips, and singing Christmas carols in Latin to the entire lunchroom. To win their freedom, some heroic feat must be performed at the banquet. Dedicated to Caesar, the feats include chariot races on tricycles and races involving the pushing of olives across the floor with noble noses.

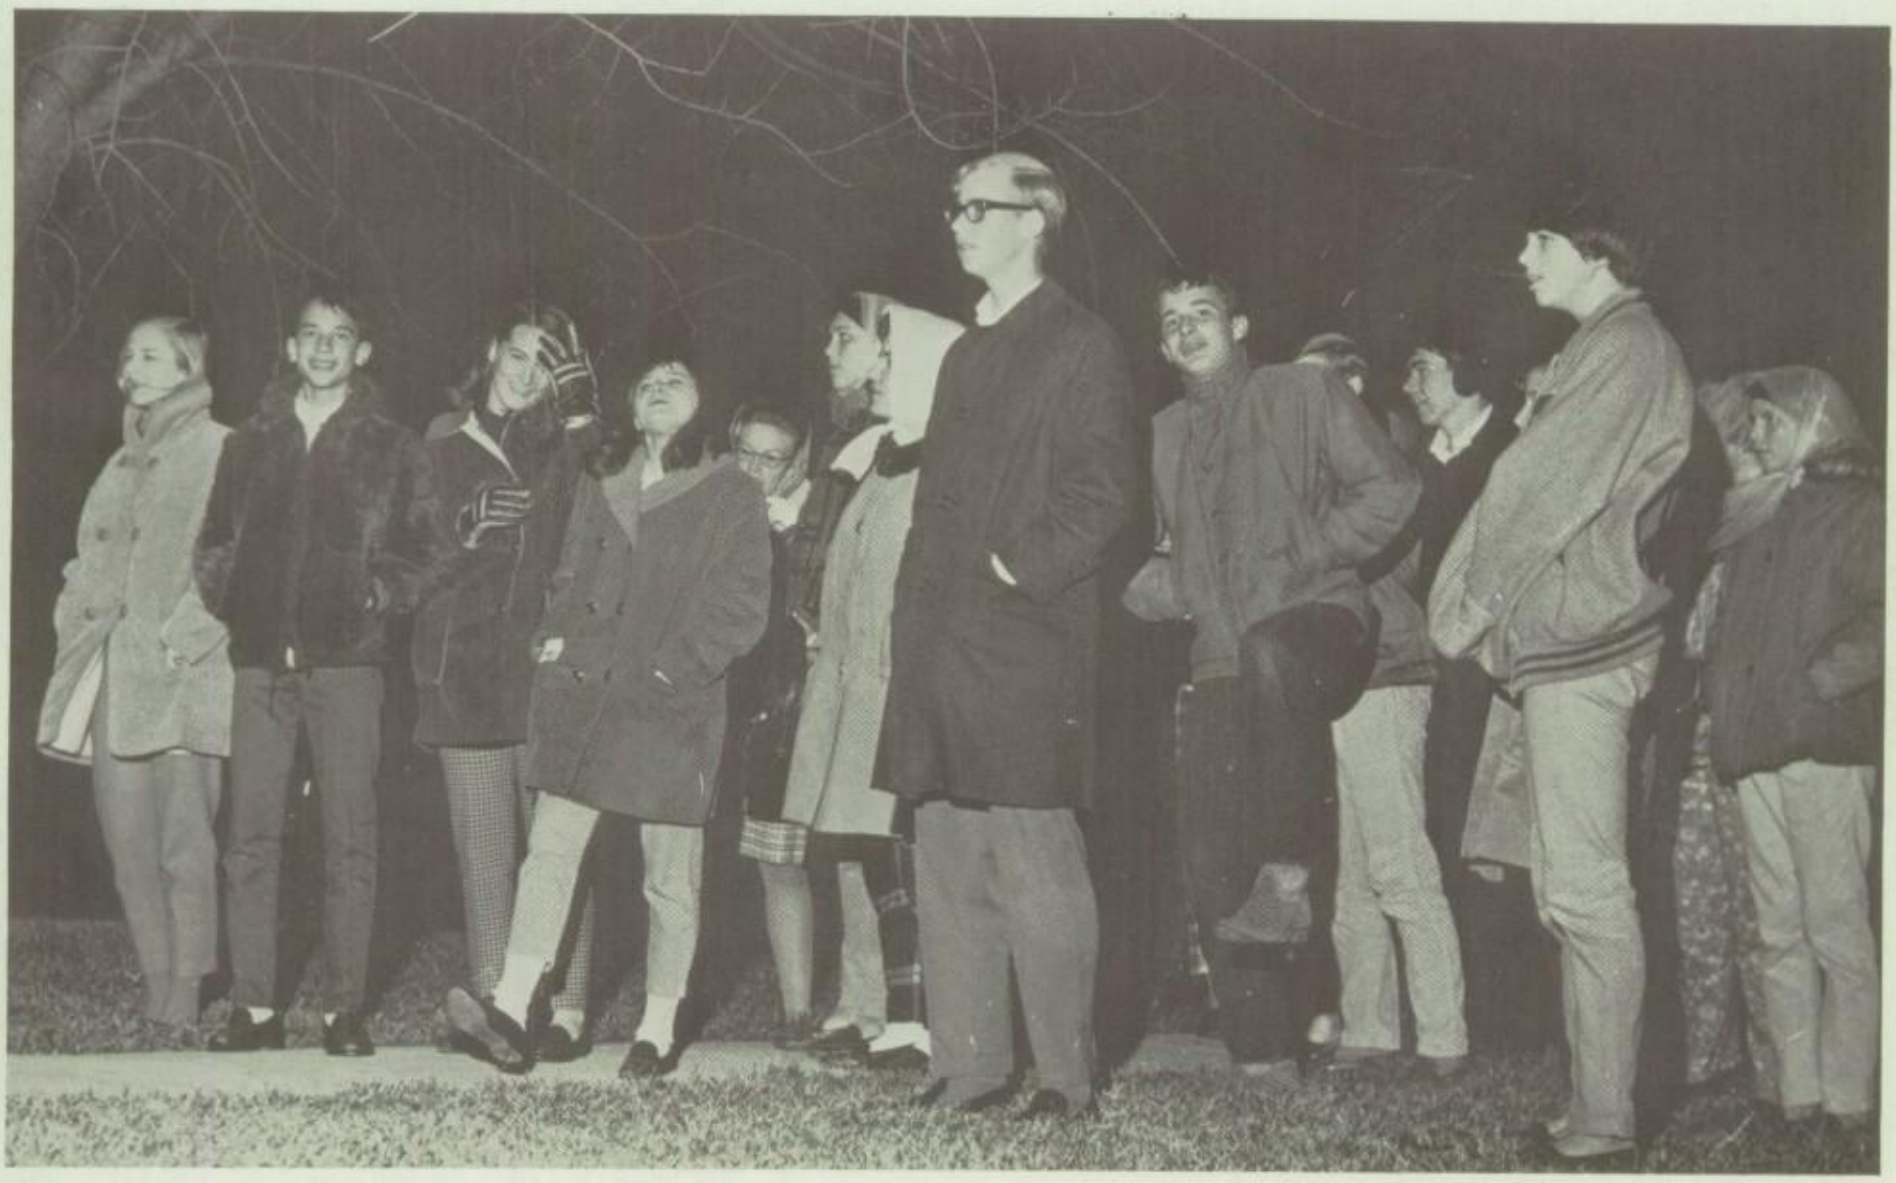
JCL members, led by sponsor Mrs. Jan Cox, congregate in the December dew to sing carols. A hot chocolate party followed.

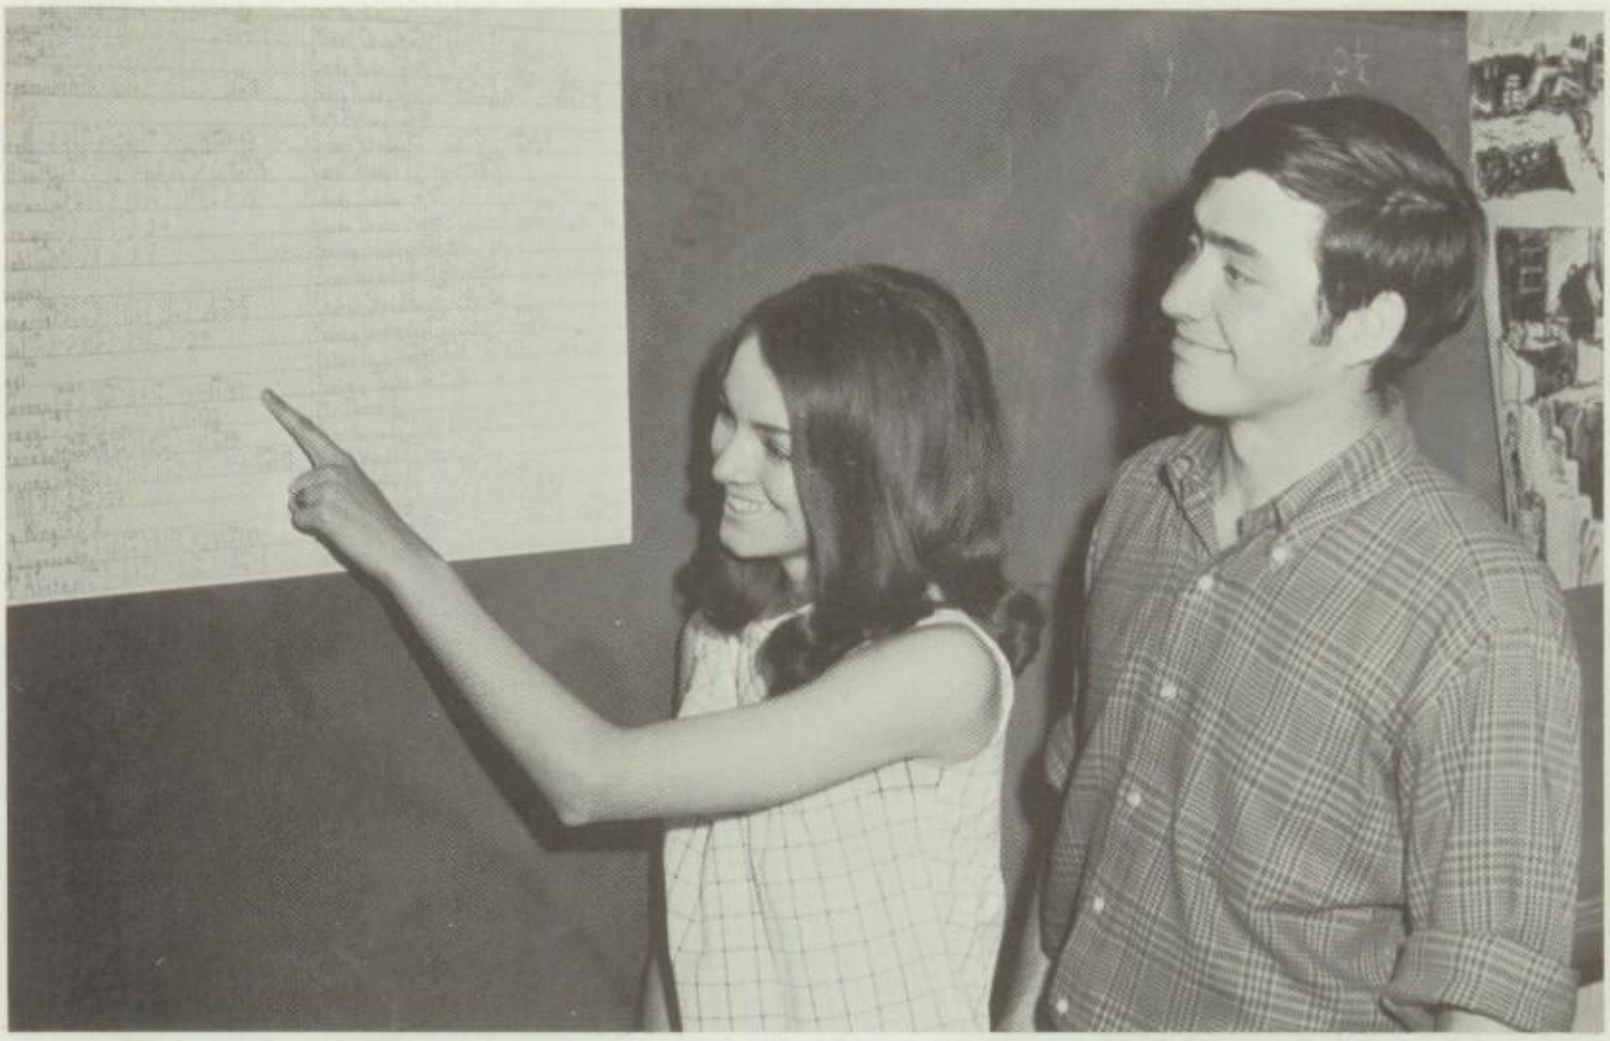
Loeta Van Noy, dressed in Roman toga and tunic, was named best dressed Roman of the year at the JCL banquet.

Members of the Junior Classical League join in a modern day gladiator fight. The goal of the battle is to carry a spherical object to a particular end of the arena. Gladiator, Don Dutton, fights vigorously to free himself from the grasp of his vicious opponents.

Football Into Gladiatorial Show

"Adestes Fidelis" sing the Latin Club members during their annual Christmas caroling party. Classical Christmas carols translated into Latin lyrics fill the air along with giggles and frosty breath.





Bridge Club secretary, Candy Schober, and president, Greg Carroll, study the chart of bridge scores. High scorer of the year was Neal Hanebutt. Winning low score honors was Steve Aronowitz.

Hanebutt Holds "High" Honors

"First you have to separate the red ones from the black ones," smirks Rodney Lagasse as Mary Margaret Ball checks her hand. Barry Johnson and Debbie Green await opening bids.

Dwight Mitchell tallies the final scores after a difficult rubber with Debbie Taylor and Greg Carroll. Jane Bauguess, Neal Hanebutt, and Judy Gregg await results.

Twice each month the sound of tables unfolding, cards flipping, and Cokes fizzing fills the air as the Bridge Club storms some unsuspecting household. The club, sponsored by Mrs. Valda Carroll, Mr. Edd Bivin, and Mr. Larry Terrell, meets at the members' homes.

Band Marches in Dallas Parade

Chosen to lead the band this year were Regina Young, vice-president; Don Levy, treasurer; Claudia Robertson, student director; Richard Houston, secretary; and Bill Milner, president.

Led by drum majors Steve Jennings and Emily Holt, the band competed in contests at L. D. Bell, and Irving in November and the Tri-State Band Festival in Enid, Oklahoma, in May. They also participated in UTA's and TCU's homecomings and celebrated New Year's by marching in the Cotton Bowl parade in Dallas.

Marching with the band was Highlander mascot Paula Weeks, who also served as Mr. Carney's secretary.

With spinning batons and precision stepping, majorettes Susan Willis, Pat Sissney, Teresa Evans, and Linda Shockey head majorette, supported Highlander band routines.

Once again the select choir was under the leadership of Miss Marylouise Baker. Emily Holt, secretary; Jane Spruill, vice-president; and Janis Moore, president, assisted in selecting new music for the choir to rehearse.

Debate Club Competes in Tournaments

Librarian, Dee Mitchell; president, Alan Bell; vice-president, Jeter Fulbright; and secretary-treasurer, Jack Graham, look over issues to be debated in competitive tournaments. Debate Club, a national organization, is a member of the Interscholastic League.

Both time and research are necessary to prepare for an issue to be debated, according to Donna Yates and Charles Dean.

The "gift of gab" comes in handy while debaters Debbie Perkinson, Dee Mitchell, Brad Ellis, and Alan Bell heatedly discuss points in a practice session. The top debate teams compete in tournaments at TCU, Dallas, and Waco trying to bring honors to Eastern Hills. Enthusiastic club members attend two hour meetings every week to learn the general techniques and rules of debating.

Dee Mitchell uses his own technique to keep his audience awake. One of the best features of the Debate Club is that it offers an opportunity to excel in public speaking. The teams are often invited by English and history teachers to debate such topics as the following: Resolved: Congress should establish uniform regulations to control criminal investigation procedures.

The commanding staff, made up of All-City Colonel Dan Young, Major Charles Dean, Lieutenant Colonel Gayle Gorsich, Captain Alan Bell, and Senior Master Sergeant Render Heard, head all other cadets in Eastern Hills' ROTC unit.

Greg Atwell and James Norgard perform the important duty of raising the flag. This is only one duty of the color guard, which also participated in military parades, reviews, and all flag ceremonies.

Eleven sponsors were elected this year to boost the spirit and morale of the Eastern Hills ROTC. Attending rifle matches and basketball games, marching in parades, and giving parties were just part of the activities carried out by honorary cadet majors Jennie Woodard, color guard; Pam Perkins, rifle team; Becky Michael, B company; Gayle Gorsich, battalion commander; Sandy Haverkorn, athletics, front row; Mrs. Ilene Harwell, supervisor; Sherma Leddy, drill team; Carolyn Dolbee, A company; Suzanne Stadler, athletics; Sue Williams, rifle team; Janis Moore, C company; and Mrs. Julia Baker, supervisor, back row.

Onlookers admire the skill demonstrated by Linda Boggs in the ROTC turkey shoot. Over $150 was brought in by the two annual affairs. This money was used for a Christmas dance held at the Texas Hotel and a trip to Galveston in April.

Coached by Sgt. Billy Horn, the boys' rifle team placed first in the city. Firing in four positions, prone, kneeling, sitting, and standing, they used .22 caliber marksmanship rifles and competed by National Rifle Association rules. Cadets forming the team were Sgt. Russ Hille, 1st Lt. James Lowe, 1st Lt. Gregg Atwell, 1st Lt. Wally Peterson, first row; Sgt. Benjamin Freeman, Sgt. Dennis Cathey, 2nd Lt. Hank King, 1st Lt. Marvin Ivy, and Cpl. William Cheney, second row.

The girls' rifle team, instructed by Marvin Ivy and James Lowe, placed second in city-wide competition. Marilyn Sprengel, sponsor during the last semester, was girls' all-city top shooter.

Dan Young, (31) scores two points for Hills while teammate Roger Huff (12) guards Dunbar opponent in a 66-64 victory. The '68 ROTC basketball team had eight lettermen with top rebounder Ronnie Mason and high point man, Charles Dean, who also served as team captain. Other members included Rick Ross, Gary Robinson, Render Heard, and Tommy Herrin.

Tartan Staff Tackles Deadlines

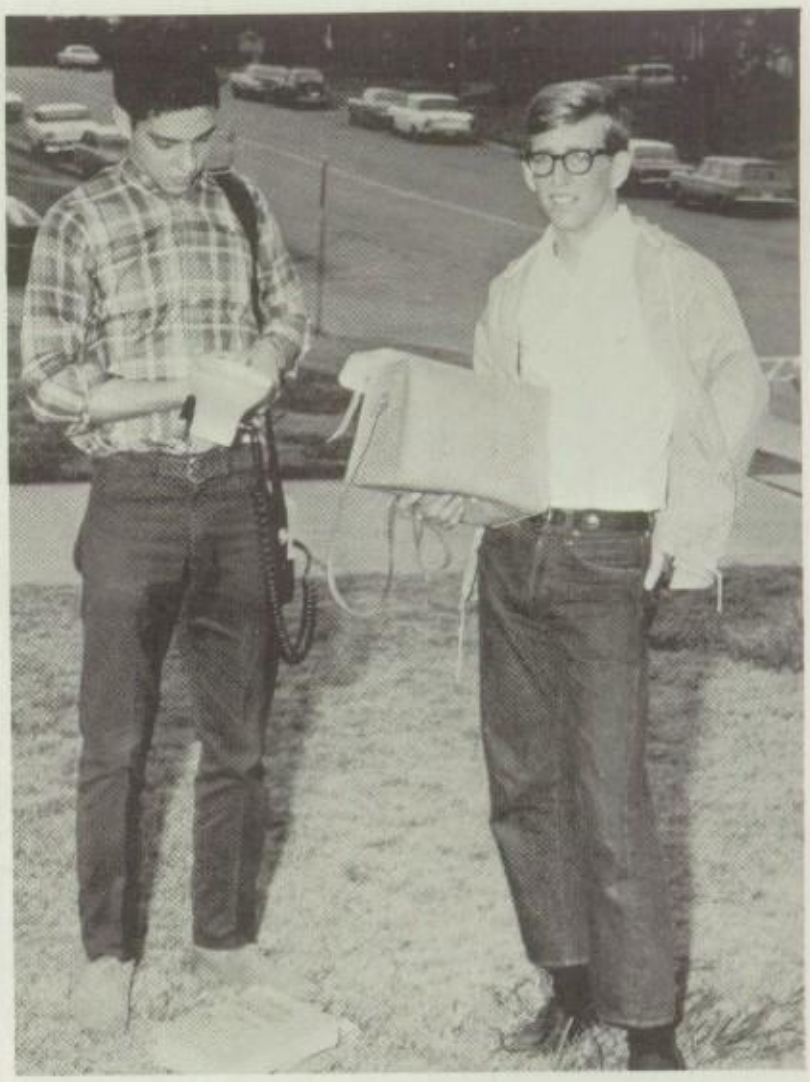
Page editors Debbie Thompson and Gayle Gorsich work on layouts to meet a Tartan deadline, one week before the paper comes out on every other Wednesday.



Cub photographers Nolan Venso and Roger Young prepare action shots for the Tartan. Both of these juniors took journalism for non-credit. They will be head photographers next year.

Page editor Regina Young (center) gives points to reporters Debi Roberts, Bill Riley, Anne Branum, Martha Creel, and Craig Gallaway. Members of the journalism staff must be juniors or seniors. The course may be taken for two years, but credit is given only for one.

Photographers Bobby Gordon and Larry Dockery demonstrate their ability to sports editor Bill Gutknecht. While covering events such as games, pep rallies, special assemblies, plays, club activities, and dances, Bobby and Larry take over thirty pictures a week, not including candid shots. Bill is responsible for the write-ups for all sports events from football to girls' intramurals. Larry and Bobby also write sports stories, as well as take pictures for the annual.

The business staff of the Tartan includes Pat Nelson, business manager; Diane Sparks, exchange editor; Virginia Peel, circulation manager; and Peggy Priddy, advertising manager. Besides their own jobs, they each have story assignments.

Clan Captures Memories of '68

Business manager Lynette Smith balances the books as senior Peggy Priddy, editor, discusses a page layout with Clan sponsor, Miss Ann King. As editor, Peggy was responsible for setting up all deadlines, with Miss King's assistance, and seeing that they were met.

A book full of memories was the highest goal of the 1968 Clan staff, whose members were selected on the basis of their English grades, citizenship, attendance, teachers' recommendations, dependability, and their ability to get along well with others.

Hours of preparation were necessary for the production of the annual. The staff had to put shoulders to the grindstone to meet deadlines, set up layouts, plan pictures, write copy, and work with the annual sales.

Work was mixed with a lot of fun. Members of the staff took a day off from their regular school work to make a trip to Taylor Publishing Company in Dallas. Poster parties, a Christmas party at Pancho's, and the everyday good times that were had first period all added up to make a pleasurable year for the Clan staff.

Sports editors Steve Aronwitz and Mike Cloud approve sports shots to be used in the Clan. It was their job to give coverage to interscholastic sports events, as well as boys' and girls' PE

Before beginning work on their respective sections, personality editor Lynda Sherrill, a senior, and junior De De Salzman, faculty editor, check through annuals from other schools in search for new ideas. For the first time portrait shots of teachers were used in the faculty section in order to provide more room for curriculum shots.

"... and I took this picture all by myself." Responsible for Clan photography are seniors Bobby Gordon and Larry Dockery, who must not only give up their study hall but also much of their free time to take pictures, develop negatives, make proof sheets, and make final prints of the pictures chosen for the annual.

We compete ...

"All the way big team" ... "Go Highlanders" ... pep rallies ... pop-fly ... "You're out" ... double dribble ... first and ten ... screaming crowds ... holes-in-one ... touchdown ... 40-love ... on your mark.

Although Eastern Hills was picked for the district 4A-5 championship, the Highlanders ran into rough roads defending their district title and wound up in fourth place.

Despite the fourth place finish, Hills was first in defense, giving up only an average of 143.0 yards per game against opponents.

Only 7 points separated Eastern Hills from the district championship, as the Highlanders lost to Terrell by only 1 point, to Arlington Heights by 3 points, and tied Dunbar 6-6.

Highlander gridmen grabbed the lion's share of district honors, placing eight players on the all-district team. Making the first team were tackle Dick Burt, guard Phil Norwood, end Steve Howell, and safety Frank Barnes. Selected for the second team were tackle John Hobbs, halfback Steve Bell, and cornerback Joey Herr. Steve Luebbehusen, tagged by some as the best all-around player in Fort Worth, was picked as both linebacker on the first team and fullback on the second team. Luebbehusen was further honored when chosen as all-state linebacker.

Trainers were sophomores Keith Blakely and Steve Tuttle and juniors Jim Reid and Bill Harris. Their duties included taking care of equipment needs, taping players, and in general contributing to the welfare of the team.

"That's right. I said those lummoxes need to take ballet lessons," declares Coach George Mitcham to his assistants, James Willingham and Ronnie McBee, Coach Mitcham has been head coach since the opening of the school in September, 1959.

Opening the football season at Birdville Stadium, September 8, the Highlander eleven dropped their first game to the Richland Rebels 14-0. However, statistic-wise Eastern Hills would have to be declared the victor, with 11 first downs to Richland's 6 and a slight edge of 171 to 149 yards in total offense.

Richland first appeared on the scoreboard with an 83 yard punt return by safety Danny Bartley. With less than one minute to play in the first half, Richland quarterback Gary Pewitt tossed a 40 yard pass to halfback Charles Pillow, who sailed in for the final score.

Tackle John Hobbs, back Frank Barnes, end Steve Howell, and guard Mike Fernihough showed fine defensive maneuvering for Eastern Hills.

Clansmen halted Haltom 14-6 to chalk up their first win of the season. In the first quarter Steve Luebbehusen plunged from the 1 yard line to put Hills on the scoreboard. The conversion attempt by Dick Burt was good, and the Highlanders led 7-0. With this advantage, the Hills defense held Haltom to only 8 yards total offense in the first half.

After strictly defensive second and third quarters, the Buffaloes tallied early in the fourth to threaten the Scots' lead. The over-enthusiastic Buffs buffaloed their chance for a win when the 2 point conversion attempt was stopped by a fierce Highlander defense.

The Highlanders strengthened their lead to 14-6 when Luebbehusen plowed across for the final touchdown with 3:16 left in the final period. Burt kicked the extra point to end the scoring.

Scotties Leash Bulldogs 33-0

Trimble Tech fell by the wayside as Eastern Hills triumphed in its first district encounter, leashing the Bulldogs 33-0.

Taking the opening kickoff at its own 36, Hills scored only four plays later. Highlander Steve Luebbehusen set up the first TD with a 51-yard dash. On the next play Joey Herr circled left end to put Hills on the scoreboard. The extra point was booted by Dick Burt.

Late in the first quarter, Tech was forced to punt from its own 9, and Eastern Hills took over at the Tech 39. Two minutes into the second quarter, Steve Bell grounded out 14 yards for the second score. The extra point attempt was good. Midway through the second quarter, the Bulldogs punted from their own 36. Herr fielded the punt at his own 31 and, aided by two tremendous downfield blocks, followed four blockers all the way for his second TD of the night.

The Highlanders, who controlled the ball most of the second half, marched from their own 29 to the Tech 2, before Luebbehusen stomped over left tackle for the TD. Burt's extra point was good.

In the fourth quarter Bell and Luebbehusen were replaced by Raymond Peak and Gary Goodyear, who together made shambles of Tech's line. From their own 41 the Highlanders drove to the Bulldog's 1 yard line, and Peak crashed over the middle for the score. Burt's extra point attempt failed.

Steve Luebbehusen and Steve Bell ate up 193 yards on the ground to lead Eastern Hills to a 13-0 victory over North Side's Steers.

In spite of the victory, Eastern Hills got off to a shaky start. North Side recovered three fumbles and intercepted one pass on the first four Highlander possessions. Ronnie Carter set up North Side on Hills' 25 and managed to carry the ball to the 6 yard line before fumbling.

With 1:30 remaining in the half, Luebbehusen charged through a flock of would-be tacklers for a five yard carry. Dick Burt's try for the extra point sailed wide, leaving the Highlanders ahead 6-0 at the half.

The Steers grabbed a Highlander fumble on the opening play of the third quarter, but Tony Smith picked off a pass to regain the ball. Midway through the final period the rugged Hills defense forced North Side to punt from its own end zone.

Nine plays after taking the ball on the Steers' 49 yard line, Bell went over for the final TD. Burt's kick was good to give Hills a 13-0 victory.

Dunbar-EH Battle to 6-6 Tie

An unidentified Highlander is found in an unusual predicament during the Dunbar game. Hills rallied to fight to a 6-6 tie and remain undefeated in district play.

In a game sparked by a free-swinging brawl late in the fourth quarter, Eastern Hils and Dunbar battled to a 6-6 tie before a capacity crowd at Handley Field.

Dunbar opened the game as Johnny White raced around left end and went in for Dunbar's only touchdown. Rodney McConnell blocked the extra boot, and the score remained 6-0. During the second quarter, the Highlander defensive unit stopped the Wildcats on the 2 yard line.

In the second half the EH defense kept the Wildcats from gaining a single first down. Dunbar retaliated and stopped Highlander drives on the Wildcat's 11, 39, 34, and 32 yard lines.

Hills bounced back in the fourth quarter as quarterback Joey Herr snapped a 27-yard pass to flanker Larry Richardson. Richardson's grab gave Hills a first down on the Dunbar 20. Herr then quickly hit Steve Bell for an additional five yards. On the next play Raymond Peak broke over the goal line for Hill's only touchdown. The extra point failed, resulting in a 6-6 tie.

Frank Barnes (48) shakes loose for a good punt return as Steve Luebbehusen leads the interference.

Although both teams gained over 100 yards rushing, the game proved to be mostly a defensive battle.

Hills Plucks Carter Eagles 41-7

Combining a devasting ground game with a surprisingly good passing attack, the Clansmen upped their league record to 3-0-1 by defeating Carter 41-7.

The first of six Highlander touchdowns came on Hills' initial offensive play with fullback Steve Luebbehusen scoring on a 72-yard draw play up the middle. Dick Burt kicked the extra point.

Minutes later Hills expanded its lead to 13-0, as Frank Barnes returned an intercepted Carter pass from the 38 to the 10. Steve Bell went to the 5 before quarterback Joey Herr scored. Burt's PAT sailed wide.

With only 50 seconds gone in the second quarter, the Clansmen marched 59 yards to hit paydirt once again. Gary Goodyear scored off left guard, and Burt kicked his third extra point.

The Highlanders made their fourth TD after taking the second-half kick-off at their own 30. Herr hit end Steve Howell from the 16 for the TD; the boot by Burt was again good.

On the Highlanders' next possession Herr threw a 60-yard pass to Larry Richardson, who scampered 53 yards for the marker. Burt's toe proved to be true, and the score was hiked to 34-0.

Carter's lone touchdown occurred with less than three minutes left in the third quarter after George Andrus recovered a fumble at the Hills' 19. Fullback John Wylie dived over right guard for the TD. Carters' PAT was successful, and the scoreboard read 34-7.

Eastern Hills' final score resulted from a muffed punt attempt on fourth down at Carter's 19. Nine plays later Josh Garrett took it over from two inches out, and Burt kicked his fifth PAT.

Previously unbeaten Eastern Hills suffered its first district loss, 14-7, against Poly before a crowd of 4,531 at Farrington Field.

In the opening quarter, the Highlanders leaped to a 7-0 lead. Jim Fleming intercepted a pass from Poly quarterback Gary Kennedy at the Poly 25. The Highlanders took only seven plays to score, with Steve Bell diving over the middle. Dick Burt booted the extra point.

Eastern Hills, which had the leading defensive unit in final standings, had trouble controlling the ball against Poly's top offensive machine.

After a scoreless second quarter, the Parrots took the kickoff at the opening of the half. Fullback Jimmy Aycock accounted for the final yard off right tackle for the TD, after the Parrots had run the ball 80 yards. Rowe Miller made the PAT, tying the score 7-7.

In the fourth quarter, sophomore halfback Robert Smith pushed his way nine yards to the 16 for Poly's winning touchdown. Miller again made the PAT good, leaving the score 14-7.

Panther quarterback Earnest Lenford threw a 45 yard strike to Raymond Johnson 36 seconds before intermission, and a bruising defense carried I. M. Terrell to a 7-6 come-from-behind victory over defending 4A-5 champion Eastern Hills.

Eastern Hills was the first to light up the scoreboard, capping a 73 yard march which was set in motion when Frank Barnes intercepted a Terrell pass at the Hills' 27. A 30 yard pass play from quarterback Joey Herr to end Tony Smith, along with runs of 21 and 10 yards by Raymond Peak, put the Highlanders in scoring position at Terrell's 8 yard line. Steve Bell darted off left tackle for the marker. Dick Burt's PAT was no good, so the scoreboard read 6-0.

The Highlander offense gained steam again early in the second quarter, marching 65 yards from Hills' 17 to Terrell's 18. The scoring threat was abruptly ended, however, when Panther Ted Sharp intercepted a Herr pass at the 6.

Driving 49 yards to the Terrell 24, the Scotties managed to punch across the 50 yard line for the first and only time in the second half. On a fourth down and 8 to go situation, only about half the needed yardage was picked up; thus allowing Terrell to take control of the ball.

Highlander Raymond Peak was the game's leading rusher, stepping off 98 yards compared to 49 yards for Joshua Smith, Terrell's leading rusher.

Eastern Hills eliminated Paschal from the 4A-5 title picture with a 13-0 victory before a partisan Homecoming crowd. Two field goals by Dick Burt and a 30-yard pass interception returned by cornerback Tony Smith highlighted the evening's activity. The Scotties' kickoff was returned 57 yards to the EH 33. After netting only one yard on three carries, the Panthers' 50-yard field goal attempt fell short. Late in the second quarter, Tony Smith recovered a Panther fumble for his first of three thefts in the game.

Frank Barnes returned the second half kick-off 55 yards to the Paschal 25, setting the stage for Burt's first three pointer, a soaring 25 yarder. Late in the third, Barnes returned a Paschal punt 15 yards to the Panther 45. As the Highlanders faced fourth and eight at the Paschal 25, Burt sent the Highlanders into a 6-0 lead with a 42-yard boot.

Smith, who was outstanding at his cornerback position for the second game in a row, put Hills further ahead by returning a Scott Rutherford pass 30 yards for a TD with less than 2 minutes left in the game.

Paschal was stopped at the Highlander 18 and 9 yard lines in the second quarter by Smith's pass interception. The Panthers dug into Eastern Hills territory six times in the first half and twice in the final half but couldn't score.

Returning to the offensive lineup for the first time in two weeks, fullback Steve Luebbehusen led the Highlander team with 47 yards on 15 carries, which included a 15 yard push to the Paschal 10, following the second half kickoff returned by Barnes.

Arlington Heights scored a 17-14 upset victory over Eastern Hills in the final district 4A-5 game of the season. A 36-yard field goal by Gary Barnwell with only one second remaining in the game provided the winning margin.

The Jackets began the scoring in the first quarter as fullback Clancy Dunigan plunged off right tackle for the TD. Barnwell's boot through the uprights made the score 7-0.

Eastern Hills' Phil Norwood blocked a punt at the Heights 32 yard line; minutes later the Highlanders took over at the Jacket 22 as Jody Ambrose, the Heights quarterback, was dropped after trying to run with the blocked ball.

Halfback Steve Luebbehusen charged through right tackle from the 5 yard line to score. Dick Burt's extra kick was good, and the score was 7-7.

Jumping back in the lead, the Jackets rolled 67 yards downfield for another touchdown with 25 seconds left in the half. Barnwell followed with the extra point.

On a screen pass quarterback Joey Herr flipped the ball to Steve Bell, who ran for 54 yards. Taking the ball on the 42, Bell cut towards the left corner and almost hit paydirt but was thrown out of bounds by Arlington Heights' Mike Leach as time ran out in the half.

In the third quarter the Highlanders bounced back when Joey Herr hit Larry Richardson with a 30 yard touchdown pass.

Despite having only three losses in district play, the Highlanders came in second in their zone behind an undefeated Poly team. Highlander cagers compiled the second best season record in the history of the school—19 wins and 8 losses—and managed to break several school records in the process. Rickey Hall gained two scoring records—one for the total number of points scored in one season, 484, and one for the total number scored in one game, 48, against Mineral Wells. Guard Jay Worley set a new high with 150 assists in one season. A record 101 points was scored by the team as a whole against Mineral Wells.

Jay Worley, Pete Newburn, Kim Riddle, Rickey Hall, and Don Groody listen attentively as Coach Howerton plans strategy for the second half in the game with Poly. For the first time in 4A play there were two zones for district play. Besides Poly, the Highlanders encountered Dunbar, Tech, and Arlington Heights.

By a margin of two field goals, the Highlanders dropped their first district basketball game to the Arlington Heights Yellow Jackets by a score of 52-56. The Yellow Jackets' win avenged the 82-52 beating they received a week earlier when they played the Highlanders in the West Side Lions' Club tournament. Hills' high point men for the game were Jay Worley with 14 points, Don Groody with 13, and Rickey Hall with 10.

In Hills' second encounter with the Yellow Jackets, the Highlanders defeated Heights 64-60. Hall led the attack with 19 points, followed by Worley with 14.

EH Tops Tech by Large Margins

Resuming play after the Christmas holidays, the Eastern Hills cagers gained their second district win by outscoring Trimble Tech 61-37. Every member of the team participated in this victory, but Jay Worley and Rickey Hall were high-point men, each scoring 14 points.

Three weeks later the Tech Bulldogs once again faced a capable Highlander five, who defeated the Bulldogs 78-34. Tech was outclassed from the beginning, finding Hills leading 20-7 at the end of first-quarter action. The Bulldogs went on a scoring spree in the fourth quarter, scoring 18 points; but their efforts were fruitless, for by that time the Highlanders were too far in front to catch.

Hall copped scoring honors with 17 points. Don Groody contributed 16, followed by Charles Goodyear with 10 and Worley with 8.

Hills Takes Two From Dunbar

Jay Worley (15) and Charles Goodyear (10) form a Highlander barricade in an attempt to regain possession of the ball. Worley led the scoring in this 73-52 triumph with 21 points.

In their first encounter with the Wildcats, Eastern Hills defeated Dunbar 66-51. Led by Rickey Hall's 22 points, the Highlanders outscored Dunbar in every quarter. Also aiding the Highlander cause by scoring in double figures were Jay Worley, Kim Riddle, and Don Groody with 13, 11, and 10 points respectively. Hills compiled a large statistical advantage in almost every department, outscoring the Wildcats in field goals 22 to 18 and hitting 22 free throws to the Wildcats' 15.

Dunbar once again found itself on the losing end as the Highlanders romped home with a 73-52 decision over the Wildcats in their second meeting of the season. Eastern Hills jumped off to a 21-12 lead at the end of the first quarter and never lost the lead. Worley, Hall, and Groody led in the scoring department, contributing 21, 18, and 13 points respectively.

Parrots Twice Defeat EH Cagers

Eastern Hills lost its second district game of the season, 66-55, in the first of two contests against Poly. Jay Worley led the scoring with 20 points; Rickey Hall followed with 14.

The Parrots' Steve Putnam was high point man for the game with 27. After contributing only three points to the Poly cause in the opening minutes, Putnam came to life during the second period of play. He also had an excellent night at the free throw line, making eleven of twelve.

In the second zone battle with the Parrots, Hills was defeated 67-58 while attempting to remain in the running for the district crown. Early in the first period, the Highlanders jumped into a seven-point lead. By the end of the first quarter, however, the Parrots, with a two-pointer in the last second of play, tied the score 14-14. Hills jumped back into the lead early in the second, but at half-time Poly led 35-29.

Poly built up a ten-point advantage, 39-29, in the third quarter. Rickey Hall, leading the Highlander attack, trimmed the score to 48-46 at the end of the third, but the Parrots nearly doubled the total points EH made in the last quarter.

The 440-yard relay, composed of Eddie Alexander, Herbie Herbert, Artie Erwin, and Tim Green, placed fourth in the district meet at Farrington Field with a time of 42.7, their best of the season.

Putting the shot for the Highlanders this year were Allen Stanford, Dick Burt, and Steve Howell. Burt set the school's indoor shot put record with a mark of 52' 3½" in the Will Rogers Indoor Games.

EHHS Cindermen Finish Second at Red Dog Relays

Of the ten teams participating in the district track meet, the Highlanders finished fifth. Dick Burt and Artie Erwin placed third in shot and the 220 yard dash, respectively. John Lathrop and Eddie Alexander both finished fifth in the district mile and fourth in 220, respectively.

Hills' first meet, the Will Rogers Indoor Track Meet, saw Clansman Dick Burt place third in shot with 52' 3½", a new record for EHHS, and John Butler tie Hills' old High jump record with a jump of 6'. In the Southwest Recreation Meet, Erwin came in fourth place in the 220; the sprint relay team made it to the finals.

Highlanders again reached the finals in the 440 yard relay in the Arlington track meet while Erwin again made the finals in the 220 with Burt placing fourth in shot. The cindermen placed third in overall at the Tarleton Relays, where both the sprint and the mile relay teams also finished third. Erwin, who made the finals at nearly every meet, had his first win in the 220 at Tarleton.

At the Red Dog Relays, EHHS placed second in overall with an accumulation of over 100 points. For three consecutive years, Hills either won or finished second at this meet. Hills' sprint relay team made the finals at the Cowtown Relays.

The mile relay quartet was composed of senior Artie Erwin, sophomore Pete Newburn, senior Herbie Herbert, and junior Sam Robertson. They won fourth place in the 4A-5 district track meet with a clocking of 3:26.4.

Eddie Alexander ran the 100 and the 220 yard dashes. He tied the school record in the 220 yard dash with a 22.3 clocking.

Senior Artie Erwin, this year's track captain, was the only three-year letterman on the team. As a sophomore Erwin was a member of the record-setting mile relay team. In his junior and senior years Erwin participated in the 220 yard dash, sprint relay, and mile relay team. His mile relay leg of 49.3 ranks as one of the school's best.

Sailing the discus for the Highlanders was Jeter Fulbright, who was the only team member to participate in this event.

Members of the track team who competed in the 440 yard dash were juniors Tim Green and Sam Robertson and senior Herbie Herbert, front.

Junior Tommy Taylor was the only member of the Highlander track team to compete in the 330 yard intermediate hurdles event. Although failing to qualify for the finals in the district meet, Taylor showed great promise in this difficult event.

Members of the boys' tennis team were, top row, Roland Drechsel, Randy Adair, Marc Dearden; bottom row, Gregg Wolf, Loy Waddell, and Scott McCurdy. Representatives in district play were determined through intra-squad tournaments.

Practice and hard work marked the beginning of the tennis season for Eastern Hills' netters. Tournaments at L. D. Bell High School and Garland provided practice and experience for the team, as racketeers from all over North Texas participated in these meets.

One week before the start of district competition all team members participated in an elimination tournament. The winners of this tournament became the school's representatives in district competition. Participating in the girls' doubles competition were Bettyann Garrett and Kathy Fincher, who were defeated by Poly in the semi-finals after having won their first two matches against Paschal and Carter. Cheryl Standifer, singles representative, lost to Southwest in her first match, as did Gregg Wolf, boys' singles representative, in his match against Dunbar. Loy Waddell and Roland Drechsel, representing Hills in doubles competition, defeated Southwest in their first match before losing to Arlington Heights.

Hills Captures East Zone Crown

Tournaments, non-district games, and an early fall training program whipped the 1968 Highlander baseball team into shape for what was to prove to be a successful season of 16 wins and 10 losses.

The 4A-5 district was divided this year into two zones. Eastern Hills was pitted against Poly, Dunbar, Terrell, and Carter in the East Zone, while Paschal, Arlington Heights, Southwest, North Side, and Tech comprised the West Zone. Each team played the members of its own zone twice and each team of the other zone once during the season. At the end of the regular season, the zone winners met to determine the city-wide championship.

An ambitious offense and a stingy defense characterized Hills' bid for the key position in the East Zone. With five Highlanders maintaining batting averages of over .250, Hills pushed across 77 runs during district play. Clansmen were equally effective on defense, holding five opponents scoreless and upping their season's shut out record to seven. The end of zone play found Hills with a 10-3 win-loss record and the right to play Arlington Heights, West Zone winner, for the 4A-5 district title. Eastern Hills was unable to advance to bi-district, however, losing two straight games to Heights, 4-3 and 5-4.

Carrying the Highlanders to the 1968 East Zone championship were, top row, Coach Willie Maxwell, Glenn Cary, Scott Lankton, Frank Barnes, Mike Fernihough, Jack Graham, Josh Garrett, Craig Dear-

Zana Underwood

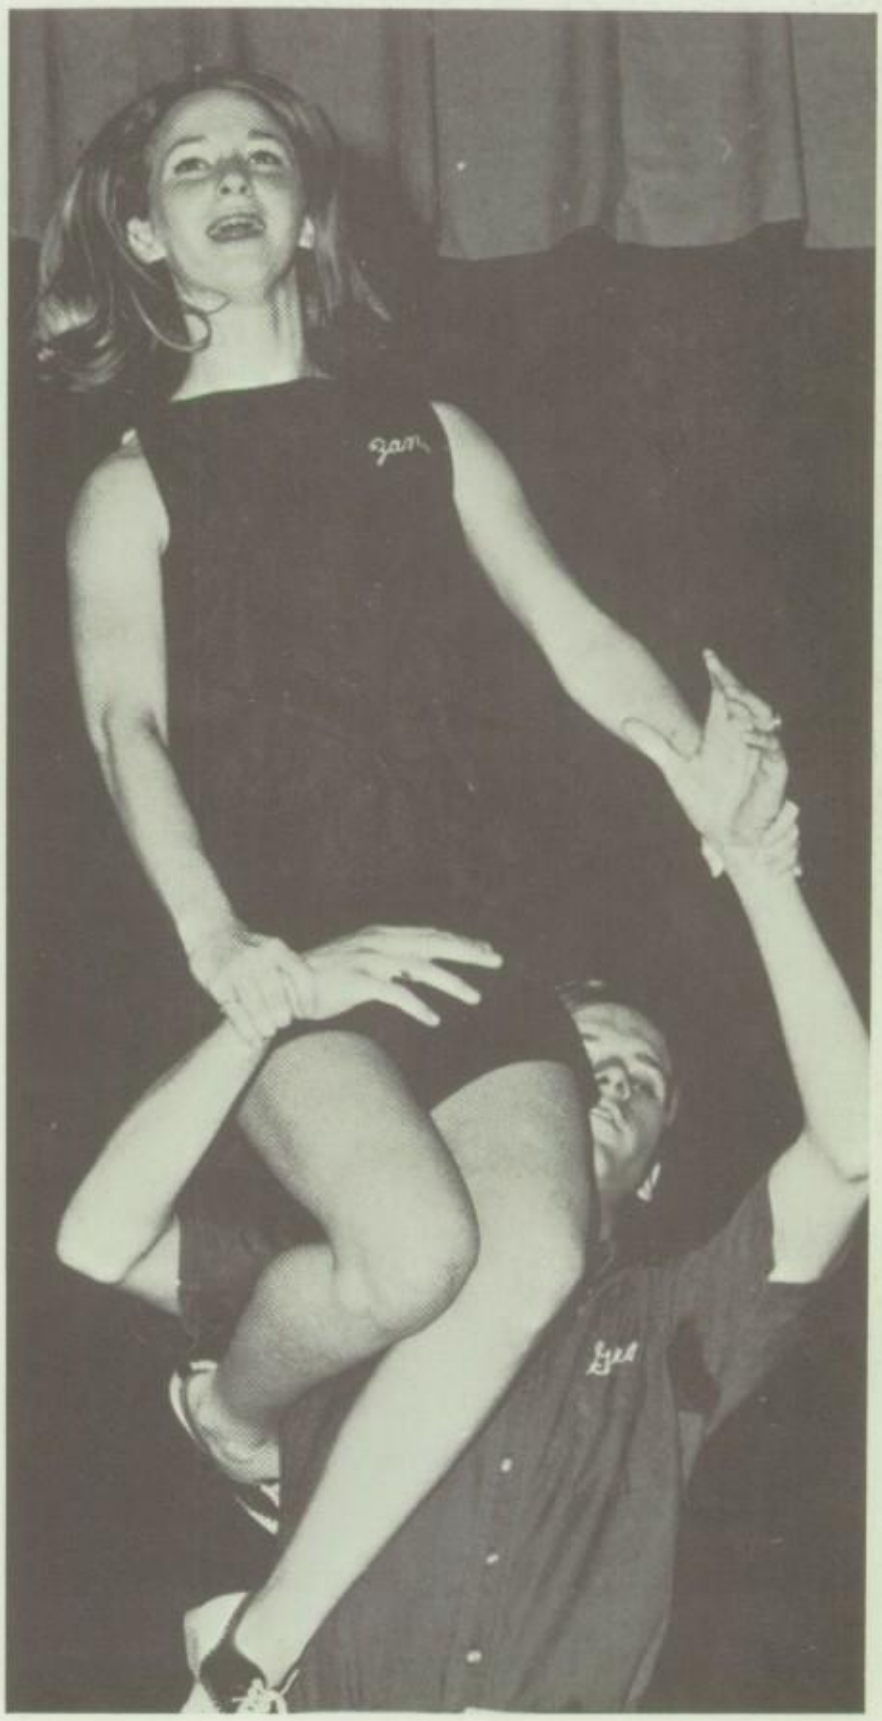
Rickey Hall has set two scoring records during his senior year to become one of the most sought after basketball players in the city. He scored the most points in any one game (48) and also in any one season (484). His other interests include football, hunting, and water skiing. Rickey has accepted a basketball scholarship to play for TCU, where he plans to major in physical education or aeronautical engineering. Upon his graduation he wants to become an airline pilot or a coach. With his skill as a sportsman and his desire to succeed, Rickey truly represents an all-round Eastern Hills student.



Zana Underwood is one of Eastern Hills' most active students. She has been a cheerleader for three years and president of JCL for two years. She was a member of Y-Teens her first two years and is now vice-president in charge of programs for the Highlander Lassies. Zana plans to attend Tarleton State College and study to become an English teacher. Since she loves to travel, she has also thought of becoming an airline stewardess. No matter what the future holds, Zana is sure to be a success.

Cheerleading isn't what it used to be! Not only must cheerleaders be adept at leading yells but they must also show great dexterity in gymnastic abilities as demonstrated above by Greg Connell and Zana Underwood, third year cheerleaders. JoAnn
You are by far
my best friend. Im going to miss talking to you when you go away to Florda, but I Know that you will be a lot happier then.
You Know I wish you
all of the very best for always. I hope that you never forget me JoAnn and when you come back next Summer the only thing that will be different is that will be a year older.

JoAnn
You are one of the coolest girls alive & I sure wish you were going to College with me.
You're a lots
Love ya
Love
Randy

JoAnn, Jerrie a Pucciow are staying great to have fun get tanned
